

Asks Funds to Run Schools At Little Rock

Corporation Head Makes Appeal for Segregated Classes

Little Rock, Ark. — The Little Rock Private School corporation appealed today for public contributions, in money and buildings, to operate the high schools as private, segregated institutions.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, announced the new plan at a news conference.

He said a "study and survey of buildings and facilities" already is underway.

Raney said the new plan is contingent on the ruling, scheduled Monday, of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals.

"If the court enjoys our use of the high school buildings, leased from the Little Rock school district, we will immediately begin school in other quarters," Raney said.

Scores Eisenhower Raney named President Eisenhower as one of those who is "leading our nation to destruction."

Raney issued a prepared statement which read: "Next Monday, the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals will decide whether the injunction issued against the Little Rock Private School corporation is to be continued in effect. Pending that decision, we will conduct a survey of facilities and buildings which will be available for use in operating private, segregated schools."

"Then, if the court enjoins our use of the high school buildings, leased from the Little Rock school district, we will immediately begin school in other quarters."

Appeals Planned "In addition to this preparatory work, we are studying several plans for public appeals for funds to meet the cost of operating the schools."

"We firmly believe that any interference with our lease of the high school buildings by the federal government is illegal and constitutes further usurpation of the right of the state of Arkansas and its political subdivision, the Little Rock school district, to exercise the rights of ownership over their properties."

Adams Not Asked To Quit, Ike States

Washington — President Eisenhower said today that he had not asked Sherman Adams to resign as White House chief of staff.

He told his news conference in response to questions that Adams resigned voluntarily.

The president said some people, whom he did not name, may have brought pressure, but Adams was never advised by him to quit.

Adams, who bowed out under fire of criticism of his connections with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, will be replaced formally next week by Wilton B. Persons.

Nuclear Sub Underwater For 54 Days

Washington — The atomic submarine Seawolf has set a new record of 54 days of underwater travel and is still going strong.

President Eisenhower disclosed the new record at a news conference today. The previous best time for submerged travel was 31 days.

The presidential announcement gave to the reporting of the feat the international prestige attached to White House statements. It was at the White House that the history-making voyage of the Nautilus was announced.

Sailed Aug. 5 The Seawolf, second of the growing fleet of American nuclear submarines, sailed from New London, Conn., on Aug. 5. The navy has said she has remained in the north Atlantic for the record-breaking test.

With a big grin, the president said the Seawolf seemed to be out for a submerged record which would last a long time and be hard to beat. (Russia, so far as known, has no nuclear submarines in operation yet.)

No Agreement In Auto Talks

General Motors Strike Is Set for Tomorrow Morning

Detroit — Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers fell short of a contract agreement in another marathon negotiating effort today on the eve of the union's threatened general strike.

An immediate result was the matching of simultaneous GM and Chrysler negotiations later in drives for settlements.

Walter Reuther's UAW, signed with Ford but none other of the industry's Big Three, has a General Motors strike set for 11 a. m. CST tomorrow unless a contract is reached before then for GM's 250,000 workers.

Talks Continue More GM negotiations already had been set for today. Chrysler talks were set up for almost the same time.

Overnight Chrysler talks were broken off at 3 a. m. Both sides reported progress but not sufficient for settlement.

The Chrysler talks, reportedly snagged on issues of seniority and salaried employees' pay, went into pre-dawn hours for a second successive day. A similar effort failed yesterday.

Neither Reuther, the union president, nor Chrysler's Vice President John D. Leary, chief company bargainer, attended the owl-hour discussions.

Reuther moved into the GM will be replaced formally next week by Wilton B. Persons.

Failing to settle at Chrysler.

Islands Not Vital to Formosa, Ike Says

Cease-Fire Could Clear Way For Settlement, He Thinks

Washington — President Eisenhower declared today that if the United States could get a cease-fire in the Quemoy - Matsu area an opportunity would be opened up to negotiate in good faith for a Formosa settlement.

Eisenhower told a news conference that the nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu, near the communist mainland, are not vital to the defense of Formosa, but he did not know whether demilitarizing those islands would offer a solution on which everybody could agree.

Eisenhower declined several times to be drawn into a discussion of precise detail or to project specifically U. S. policy.

The basic issue, he declared, is to avoid a retreat in the face of force.

In what Secretary Dulles said yesterday, there was no appealment offered to the communists, but he stressed the United States does want a peaceful solution. It was in this connection that he declared Quemoy and Matsu are not vital to Formosa.

Dulles' conference yesterday led to belief that the U. S. would be prepared to modify somewhat its policies toward China if there was reason to believe that the Chinese would be prepared to do the same.

Presley, a U. S. Army private, was one of 1,300 soldiers arriving on the troopship Gen. Randall.

The army did its best to make it a normal debarkation. Military cops were all over the place and the German police were around to help out.

Presley himself had little to say. "They (the army) won't let me," he shouted at newsmen clamoring for an interview.

Manitowoc Hunter Killed in Accident

Manitowoc — The first fatality of the Wisconsin duck hunting season occurred today shortly after the start of the annual waterfowl hunt.

Richard Sumon, 25, Manitowoc, was killed this morning when he was struck by a blast from the gun of his hunting companion, James Ziarnik, 17, also of Manitowoc.

The tragedy occurred along the Manitowoc river north-west of that city. Authorities said both hunters stood up to take a shot at a duck and Simon apparently stepped into the line of Ziarnik's fire.

Tax Study Favored in Platform

BY JIM BARTELT Post-Crescent News Service

Madison — The Democratic statutory convention put the party on familiar and expected ground Tuesday by amending the platform of the summer party convention with flat opposition to a general sales tax.

The platform from the state convention had called for a tax impact and distribution study and had used weaker language than that of past campaigns in covering the sales tax. This had brought some interpretations that a door was being left open for a sales tax if it were needed.

Tuesday's convention removed all this. Predictions that this would happen were based in part on the successful primary campaign of John Reynolds, Green Bay, for attorney general. Reynolds campaigned on a flat anti-sales tax theme.

Hear Pep Talks The only division of opinion among legislative and state candidates was in adopting a resolution to condemn the administration's China policy and to call for prompt action on Quemoy and Matsu. A motion to sidetrack this resolution lost 32-24.

The convention also heard pep talks from Proxmire and State Sen. Gaylord Nelson, candidate for governor, in which Proxmire said Democrats were losing a handicap of being called "the war party" in Wisconsin and in which Nelson accused Gov. Thomson of using non-partisan state officials in his campaign.

Heard Patrick J. Lucey, state party chairman, say the legislative campaign this fall.

Reds Celebrate Anniversary and Talk of Conquest

London — Red China celebrated its ninth anniversary today with a massive military parade and calls for the conquest of Formosa and the offshore islands.

About 600,000 Chinese marched through the Gate of Heavenly Peace shouting "long live world peace" but demanding "liberation" of Formosa and Quemoy, Peiping radio reported.

Red China's Joss Mao Tze-tung, and his hierarchy reviewed a 50-minute parade of army tanks, guns and troops, then watched a 3-hour civilian demonstration. Red jet fighters and bombers flew overhead.

Defense Minister Peng Teh-huai in the main speech of the day, declared red China is determined to recover the Quemoy and Matsu island groups "to eliminate the direct menace to the mainland."

Chiang called the move "wishful thinking."

Chiang added: "Mr. Dulles has always stood on the side of justice and righteousness and it is inconceivable that he might now have new thoughts on the matter."

He said he was less worried about the situation itself than about the lack of understanding between the two sides.

Arabs Balk at Promises to Recall Troops

Threaten UN Move Unless Action Is Taken Quickly

BY TOM HOGE

United Nations, N.Y. — Arab diplomats balked today over conditional U.S.-British promises for pulling their troops out of Lebanon and Jordan.

A spokesman for the United Arab Republic made clear that, if the troops don't leave quickly, President Nasser's government will toss the matter before the general assembly.

This echoed a warning delivered to the assembly earlier yesterday by the Sudan that, unless a clearcut troop withdrawal announcement is made, it will ask for a full-scale debate.

The U.A.R. spokesman said it was not clear from Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's Middle East report when and under what conditions the Americans and British will get out.

Hussein's Announcement King Hussein of Jordan announced today that British troops will begin leaving his country on Oct. 20. He did not announce any conditions. He complained, however, that hostile propaganda from other Arab countries against Jordan had not yet ceased.

The 8-nation Arab League meeting in Cairo today, was expected to go over the Hammarskjöld report and map out a course of action.

U.A.R. Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi, who delayed his appearance before the general assembly to attend the league parley, is expected to spell out Nasser's position before the world body next week.

Democracy is making a major campaign appeal on the basis of their opposition to sales taxation and a corollary claim that Republicans are conspiring to introduce that form of taxation.

Sales Tax Dispute Following Thomson's lead, but only after a lively dispute, the party candidates decided they wouldn't say yes, and they wouldn't say no.

Sales tax champions made a considerable argument, it was learned, with drafting committee members almost evenly divided.

But as the finance plank emerged it read like this: "The party pledges to 'obtain the lowest over-all level of state and local taxes, and the best attainable competitive position for economic development and provision of job opportunities."

"To place the state in the best attainable position in the competition between the states for the expansion of job opportunities and industrial growth."

"To provide an equitable distribution of the total tax burden."

"To maintain the same consideration the Republican party has always had for the needs of large families and those with limited ability to pay taxes."

With an eye on Democratic campaign arguments about issuing direct state bonds, the GOP platform makers also pledged to continue the exist-

Chiang Calls Cease-Fire Move 'Wishful Thinking'

Wants Forces to Remain

Taipei — Nationalist China today rejected Secretary of State Dulles' suggestions for reducing the garrisons on the offshore islands.

BY SPENCER MOOSA Kaohsiung, Formosa — Mr. Dulles is sincere toward President Chiang Kai-shek and that he has faith in our cause," the president added.

Asked what he thought about the future of the Chinese communists, who today were celebrating the ninth anniversary of the inauguration of their Chinese Peoples Republic in Peiping, Chiang said: "My belief is that it will not be very long before the Chinese communist regime will come to the end of the road. How soon that will be only the future can tell. But it may come about sooner than expected."

Chiang declared, "that it is only wishful thinking to ask the Chinese communists for a cease-fire."

"Granted that Mr. Dulles made the statement attributed to him for diplomatic reasons or with other purposes in mind. What he is quoted as having said seems completely incompatible with our stand and does not sound like him."

There seems to be implications at variance with his own earlier utterances on the subject.

Trusts Dulles "Mr. Dulles must know that wishes for a cease-fire will never materialize and he must have serious misgivings in his own mind about the sub-

Republicans Aim to Meet Foes' Issues

BY JOHN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The Republican party of Wisconsin today presented the most carefully composed platform drafted by the majority party in a generation.

Cautious and detailed, it was drafted with an eye to some of the issues drawn by Democrats.

Most of it is the work of Gov. Thomson, and in at least one signal respect it defies the wishes of the Republican voluntary campaign organization platform drafted at a Milwaukee delegate convention in June.

The June convention, heavily influenced by down-state industrial areas that usually show Democratic majorities, called for a popular referendum on legislation that would outlaw the closed or union shop. It was hoped a favorable vote would force the legislature to enact one.

No Quibbling But the Tuesday platform was written by party candidates, men "on the firing line," who don't relish the idea of a fight with the forces of organized labor.

They accepted without a quibble the proposal of Thomson to abandon the "right to work" plank and to substitute a pro-labor declaration.

The declaration pledges laws to eliminate "physical coercion and assault, hoodlumism, intimidation, violence and destruction of property incident to labor management disputes and to plug all loopholes in our laws to effectually prohibit such practices."

Of major secondary interest was the candidates' upholding of a neutral position on state finance and tax issues, following the lead of the June convention's declaration.

Democrats are making a major campaign appeal on the basis of their opposition to sales taxation and a corollary claim that Republicans are conspiring to introduce that form of taxation.

Pittsburgh Hotels Crippled by Strike

Pittsburgh — Pittsburgh's first major hotel strike since 1946 crippled five of the city's biggest hotels today.

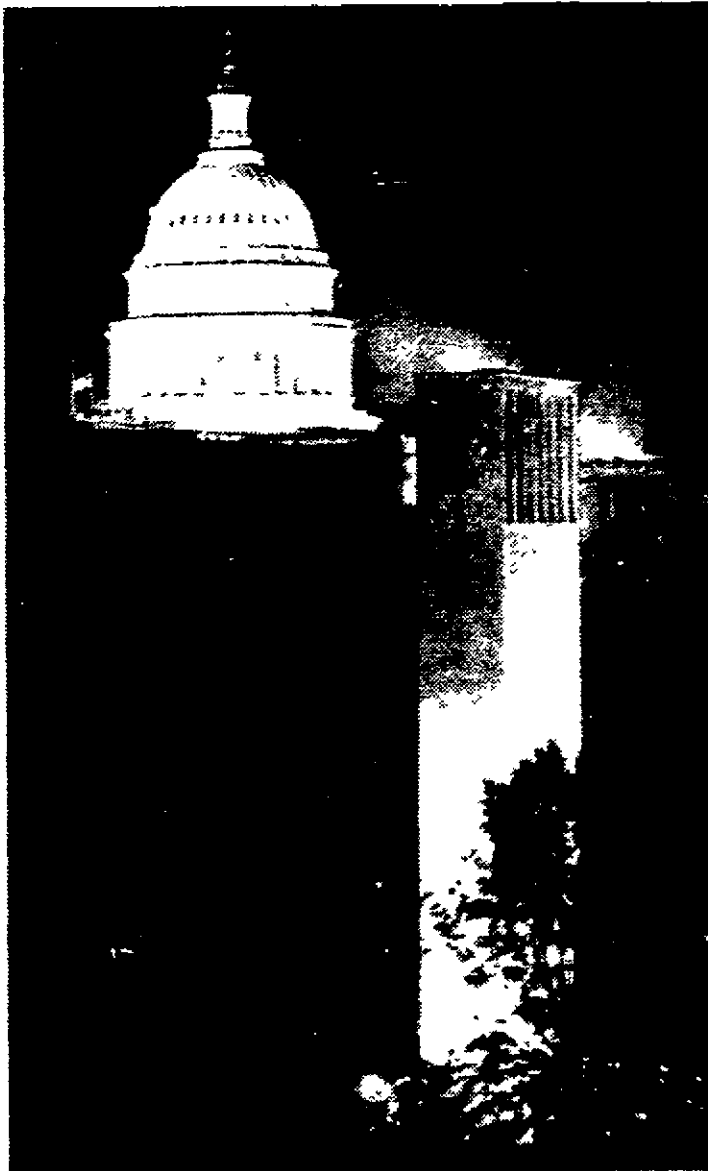

Representatives of two unions ordered 2,300 service employees off the job at 1:40 a. m. after angrily rejecting a last-minute offer by the hotel operators.

Within an hour pickets appeared in front of the Penn-Sheraton, Roosevelt, Pittsburgh, Sherwyn and Webster Hall hotels.

No registrations are being accepted. Guests already registered are being urged to check out immediately.

A skeleton supervisory force was on duty at each hotel. Assistant managers ran elevators. Some guests, anticipating a strike, began to move out last night. They hustled their own luggage.

U. S. Raps Russia for Breaking Test Ban

Says Explosions Prove Red Action Was Pure Propaganda; Offers to End Testing for Year After Oct. 31

Washington — (U) — The United States, chiding Russia for resuming nuclear weapons tests, says it will go through with plans for a 1-year U. S. test suspension if the Russians will follow suit.

The state department issued that announcement last night a short time after the Atomic Energy commission reported Russia had terminated its much-heralded but short-lived test suspension with at least two new blasts.

The department described the Soviet tests as confirmation of U. S. suspicions that the Russian test suspension announcement last March 31 was just propaganda.

The AEC announcement of the new Soviet tests backed up reports earlier in the day from Tokyo that blast waves from the direction of Russia had been detected.

Arctic Blasts
"Two detonations were detected," the AEC said. Both took place north of the Arctic circle and were of moderate to high yield.

The AEC didn't elaborate but a Japanese meteorological spokesman indicated the blast appeared to be of H-bomb magnitude.

In announcing the United States hopes to adhere to its own suspension plans, the state department noted that talks initiated by this country are scheduled to begin in Geneva Oct. 31 on means of reaching agreement on policing a worldwide test suspension.

Rio Grande Flood Level Shows Drop

Expect Water From Mexico to Boost Raging Texas River

Presidio, Texas — (U) — The Rio Grande, rising and falling here like a roller-coaster since Sunday, went down again today.

The border river rose slowly last night and early today to within less than three inches of the record flood level set Sunday.

Reports from Mexico indicated, however, flooding rivers there will pour even more water into the Rio Grande.

Ralph England, a newsman at this southwest Texas city, said the river apparently crested at about 3 a. m. today and started falling slowly.

He said it probably would be some time before officials could determine what effect new waters from Mexico will have.

Hits 20 Feet
A muddy crest Sunday hit 20.5 feet here, flooding homes and rich farmland. About 25 homes on the Texas side were damaged and more than 100 families were displaced in the area across the river.

Farmers estimated about $5 million damage to crops and irrigated farmland from Sunday's flood.

The new crest came surging down last night from the Rio Conchos in Mexico. It raised the falling river level three feet.

Telegraph reports from Falmor, 80 miles inside Mexico, indicated the Florida river was at a record high level and would pour more water into the Rio Conchos.

Cold Front
A cold front which came through here last night left the air chilly and skies overcast. Many campfires were sighted on the Mexican side of the river. Residents of the Rio Conchos valley reportedly were hard-hit.

Area residents watched the river tensely as it flowed again through homes abandoned Sunday and into the U. S. customs building here.

Meanwhile, Sunday's crest flattened as it rolled downstream. No flood loss was expected downstream and many were more concerned about loss of irrigation water in this normally dry area.

West German Solons Meet in Berlin

Berlin — (U) — The west German parliament met in this old capital behind the iron curtain today to underscore the hope that it will one day again be the capital of a united Germany.

As the 400 legislators convened in the main lecture hall of west Berlin's technical university, the talk was all about reunification and concern for fellow Germans living under communist rule in east Germany.

Mrs. Blanton said William and a friend were punished for throwing stones — some of which she displays — on the school playground. The boy displays bruises. Officials have ordered a hearing next week to determine if there was any law violation.

Denies Fatal Beating of His Brother-in-Law

Tokyo — (U) — Joseph P. Crowley flatly denied today that he fatally beat his brother-in-law, T. A. D. Jones, Jr.

Crowley took the stand for the first time at his trial in Tokyo district court on a charge of inflicting "bodily injury resulting in death" after a drinking spree with Jones.

He has pleaded innocent.

The 49-year-old former Yale football halfback was asked by the prosecutor, "Do you like to drink?"

"Yes, I like to drink," Crowley replied.

"How much can you take?"

"That's a difficult question to answer," the defendant said.

Asked About Death
Crowley was asked to relate events leading up to the death of Jones, 43. The two businessmen from New Haven, Conn., had come to Japan with Frederick Kissinger, 62, an accountant from Brandywine, Md., to buy an oil tanker.

Crowley testified he and Jones went with friends to a restaurant, then night clubbing, returning to their hotel suite between 3 and 4 a. m. May 8.

In their room, Crowley related, they continued drinking with Kissinger and Ben Guill of the U. S. Maritime Administration, who occupied another hotel room.

"I don't think I was drunk," Crowley said, adding that neither was Jones drunk or incoherent. He denied there had been any arguments between him and Jones before he retired.

Crowley said Kissinger woke him up around 6:30 a. m. to tell him Jones was out cold on the floor. They carried him to his bed unconscious, Crowley related, then called a doctor.

Jones died later that day.

Forecasts Victory For Democrats in Wisconsin, California

Madison — (U) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) predicted Tuesday night there will be Democratic sweeps in several states including Wisconsin and California.

"People throughout the country realize that the nation is in the hands of tired, timid old men," Humphrey told about 100 guests at a $10-a-plate Democratic fund raising dinner.

Humphrey discounted Vice President Richard Nixon's cross-country campaign tour in behalf of Republican candidates.

"Mr. Nixon will be about as useful as a blotter in the ocean," said Humphrey. Humphrey also said there are signs of Democratic victories in Indiana and Iowa. "Actually," he said, "we could also win in Vermont — which would be something."

Guinea Leader Defines Freedom From France

Premier Says Nation Does Not Want Complete Severance From French Ties

Paris — (U) — "We want a free and dignified marriage, and not divorce," said the troubled premier of newly independent Guinea.

"We don't want independence against France, but rather with her," the handsome black-suited Negro leader explained to a reporter in his distant capital at Conakry.

Results of the Sept. 28 French constitutional referendum from the rain-swept tropical countryside showed a margin of 40 to 1 against Gen. Charles de Gaulle's constitution.

Sekou Toure, a former French trading company junior clerk whose ancestors helped found the 13th century African Mali empire, had told his followers to vote "no."

Tom-Toms Pass Word
Tom-toms beat out the word. The white ballots (yes) meant white Frenchman. Dark purple ballots (no) meant the black man. Purple won.

So today 36-year-old Toure has his own little empire, an aluminum and iron ore-rich nation on Africa's west coast.

True to his promise to a territory which voted down his constitution, De Gaulle gave Guinea its sovereignty last midnight.

But already, Sekou Toure (pronounced say-coo tour-ay) is having second thoughts about the freedom of his own shaping.

Toure called off any celebration on independence day. A grave-faced French governor, Jean Riserucci, has told him: Henceforth international law will govern French relationships with Guinea.

Affect Changes
Frenchmen running Guinea's customs, postal, telegraph, phone and radio services, and French teachers, will decide in two months whether they want to go home or work for Toure.

French army units will pull out within three months, leaving internal and external security to Guinea.

French aid, which has totaled more than 15 billion francs ($33 million) in the last 10 years, will be cut off.

This leaves Sekou Toure pretty much alone with his 2½ million Fula, Malinke and Soussou tribesmen.

"Even if France wants to abandon Guinea, she will remain despite herself," Toure said. "Colonization has its positive things. We will keep French culture. We want to stay in the franc zone."

"For the moment we aren't even thinking about our own money, nor even our own flag," he said.

Officers Quit Work on Passenger, Cargo Ships As Union Contract Ends

Some 300 to 400 Vessels Affected in 'Tieup,' Negotiations Continue

New York — (U) — Deck officers were ordered by their union today to quit work on a major part of the ships in the United States passenger and dry cargo fleets based in Atlantic and Gulf coast ports.

The work stoppage was called against 20 large steamship companies by the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots.

About 1,300 ship officers are involved.

300-400 Affected
Estimates of the number of ships affected range from 300 to 400. Ships at sea were not included in the stop-work order.

The contract between the union and the American Merchant Marine institute, which represents the 20 companies, expired last midnight.

The union ordered the men not to work without a contract, and called the situation a "tieup." Ralph E. Casey, president of the employer group, called it a "strike."

Negotiations on a new contract were recessed at 1:30 a. m. until 2 p. m. today.

Some Progress
Casey said as he left the post-midnight session: "I don't feel that we are close to an agreement, but I do feel we have made some progress."

Capt. Robert Durkin, international president of the union, said the deck officers would not walk off their ships. If they were ordered off by the employers, he said, that would constitute a lockout and picket lines then would be set up at piers.

Both union and employer spokesmen said the contract dispute had been narrowed from 29 to 7 items. They declined to disclose the items still in dispute.

The disagreements were reportedly reported to concern vacation, pension and welfare benefits. The union has not sought a wage increase.

Even the famed ballroom's piano is gone — the ivories that jumped under the talented fingers of Duke Ellington, Count Basie, Fats Waller and Erroll Garner.

The piano went yesterday, by the thump of an auctioneer's gavel in the room where once the nation's best drummers supplied the beat.

The fixtures were auctioned off as final preparations were made to tear down the Savoy building in Harlem to make way for a housing project.

In the days when swing was king, the Savoy was one of its most glittering thrones. Nearly every name band of the late twenties, thirties, and forties, beginning with Rudy Vallee's and Isham Jones', played the ballroom.

And the crowds came in droves to stomp. A few sentimentalists turned up at the auction yesterday and danced a few, final totaling $13 million in Detroit steps. They were the last to stomp at the Savoy.

Reader Told Installment Plan Good Way to Purchase Stocks

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. At 55, it's time I plan for my retirement in 10 years. I have an insurance policy that matures next month. It will give me either $7,200 in cash or $45 a month for life. I am thinking of using the $45 a month (which I do not need now) to buy stocks. In 10 years I feel that this (with dividends reinvested) would be not too far short of $7,200. I could then use the income from the stock plus the continuing $45 a month when I retire.

Or, do you think I would be better off taking the $7,200 and investing it immediately? talking possibilities. Either me to buy stock in Budget Finance and General American Industries.

A. Suppose we get down to method of investing may not be the basic reasoning behind the result in anything near the figures I have used for example.

If you take the lump sum, your hope would be to put it into the kind of securities that would show big growth over 10 years. If you handled this chore exceptionally well, you don't think you should do rather small, in comparison might possibly run the $7,200 that. And $7,200 is quite a up to, maybe, $15,000 or more chunk for an ordinary person in 10 years.

When you retire, you would naturally want to switch your investments into high-grade income producing stocks. If you then had $15,000 (after paying the capital gains tax bite) and put it into stocks paying 5 per cent, the return on your investment would be $750 a year.

5 Per Cent However, if you take the $45 a month and invest it as you plan, it might possibly grow to, say, $7,000 over 10 years. A 5 per cent return on that investment would be $350.

Add to that the continuing $45 a month and your income from investments and insurance would be $890 a year. Hes, I know that I'm just talking possibilities. Either me to buy stock in Budget Finance and General American Industries.

I work hard for my money, so please give me your best opinion of these two investments.

You might take the $7,200 and run it up into a real business. To try this though, you A. Budget Finance is an expanding outfit. But it's still rather small, in comparison to other consumer finance companies. The stock has a fairly respectable record as far as profits and dividends are concerned. But it doesn't seem nearly solid enough an investment for someone in your financial position. If you are going to invest, pick some issue on firmer ground. General American Industries is definitely not your cup of tea. It's a speculation, pure and simple. Maybe your friend can afford to put his money into this kind of a stock. But you can't.

No Place for a Swimming Pool

The city council will be asked tonight to approve Interlake park as a site for the new southside swimming pool. Council leaders have made it plain that if any aldermen are going to object, they must do it now. Understandably, they don't want any more last-minute changes of heart such as took place on the Oneida street bridge question.

We certainly hope the aldermen will object; Interlake park is no place for the swimming pool. The reason is simple: too much traffic, and thus danger for the kids. Interlake park is located on E. John street which will become one of the major routes for traffic using the new high-level east end bridge. It will be, some day, as busy as S. Memorial drive is now. Children flocking to and from the swimming pool, on foot and on bikes, will present a traffic hazard no matter where the pool is built, but on E. John street the hazard will be multiplied many times.

The Puzzle

The state conservation administration, which has had several years of comparative peace in which to perform its job, is now subject to malicious harangues from some elements of the Wisconsin press.

By some malevolent coincidence, Director Voigt and his department are now being pounded by the outdoors editors of both Milwaukee newspapers. Some other Wisconsin papers, as is customary, are hurrying to follow their big-city cousins' lead without pausing to wonder about the inconsistencies in the situation.

One of these critics, with the supercilious arrogance that is the habit of the breed where editorial executives are inattentive, wants to clean house in the conservation administration because some of the bureaucrats are not eager enough to dance to the tune of the college-trained biologists.

And the other, perhaps out of deference to the competitive and combative traditions of his craft, is hammering out angry sermons because the department is too prone to follow the lead of these technicians. Ridicule is his weapon, as innuendo

Jesters' Plight

The state of the nation's funny bone is being deplored by — of all people — the craftsmen who have made that fictional cartilage their special domain. After much public soul searching these national jesters have come up with a characteristic answer: it isn't their fault.

They blame censorship, taboos, frightened sponsors and the ever growing legions of pressure groups. They cast envious eyes at the untrammelled world of such legendary comics as Will Rogers, who chided the president of the United States and made him laugh.

In fact they seem obsessed with what they cannot do almost to the exclusion of why they cannot be funny. A defeatist attitude seems to have clouded their insight. They do contend fear is one of the factors for the country's ill humor.

These are frightening times and fear has shown up in some of the things we do laugh at. Hilarity even at the expense of good taste and charity was and is being provoked by the "sick" and "ghoul" jokes which psychiatrists say stem from fear, and a prominent television personality is said to be able to read the aldermen's minds, but we are reasonably sure that a big reason is the fact that it is being offered to the city, free of charge, by the Consolidated Water Power and Paper company which owns it. The company's generosity and public-spirited attitude certainly are to be praised, but that doesn't make this the right place for a pool.

With the tax rate recently having taken a healthy jump and another increase probably coming next year, the aldermen understandably are pretty sensitive about spending the city's money. Thus there has been a tendency to look around for a cheaper way of doing things. In general this is a praiseworthy attitude, but the council should not permit its desire for economy to force it into building wrong facilities at the wrong places. We are quite sure that most south side parents would rather wait awhile for their swimming pool, rather than have it built at a site where their children will have to travel with or cross through heavy traffic every time they grab their suits and take off for a swim.

All this, of course, must be unpleasant for the men in charge of the conservation program at Madison, responsible as they are to the governor, the legislature, and all the people of Wisconsin.

Yet there must also be some comfort in the situation, if they reflect on it. Surely there must be a reasonable middle ground in these necessarily uncertain problems and programs, if their two most violent acusers take diametrically opposite positions from which to attack.

For ourselves, we are not impressed by these diatribes from the hecklers whose pretensions to expertness in these subjects are no more solidly anchored than the possession of white space and some circulation. We are more impressed by the calm willingness of Voigt and his immediate subordinates to proceed with their tasks in the best way they know, and their refusal to dignify their self-appointed judges. We wish one or two of the more nervous and publicity-conscious members of the conservation commission would show a similar confidence and dignity.

to hold his popularity and get many of his laughs from the audience's actual fear of what might happen — again in the realm just bordering taste and charity.

The nervous titter seems to have taken the place of the healthy guffaw. The block to the jesters' goal seems to be of their own making. Jimmy Durante, a comic who isn't complaining, would describe the block as "double entry," an affront to public taste of which Jimmy and the laugh provoking comics have never been guilty.

Laughter is a safety valve that becomes of utmost importance in times of stress. With sputniks flying about while intricate mechanisms refuse to leave Florida's sunny clime and with thousands of shells warming up the cold war while diplomatic pouches contain ungentelemanly diatribes, laughter is becoming more important daily.

It is a pity the gag hucksters we depend on are in such a blue funk they can't see we still respond to humor in good taste and that we are intelligent enough to enjoy cleverly devised, wise comment on the foibles of our everyday living.

Plan New Attack

Chicago Will Continue Water Diversion Fight

From The Chicago Daily News

In the disappointment over the last-minute defeat in Congress of the Lake Michigan water diversion bill, there has been a tendency to put all the blame on William Proxmire, the Democratic freshman senator from Wisconsin.

It was Proxmire, of course, who dealt the final blow with a filibuster threat. But the errors that brought the bill to such a sad state were strategic errors of long standing.

The bill, as passed by the House last year, was unfortunately vague. It called for a 3-year experimental period without specifically limiting the actual test of increased diversion to one year, as its advocates plainly intended. They expected the House committee that approved the bill to make this plain, but the committee did not do so.

That left the bill vulnerable. As a result, the senate at the last moment voted 29 to 28 to amend the bill to specify a one-year test. This action came too late to allow for a conference before congress adjourned.

The real significance of the defeat is not in the manner in which it was accomplished.

ed. What it really means is that the opposition is still formidable, despite the removal of objections by Canada and President Eisenhower.

The impending opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway already has arraigned new foes against it, since the lower Great Lakes states are more than ever concerned about the depths of harbors.

What is needed, if this legislation is ever to succeed, is a thoroughgoing educational campaign that will convince the opponents of the justice of an increase in diversion at Chicago.

Mayor Daley already has indicated that he will seek an understanding among the mayors of the states which have opposed the diversion in the past. We must lose no time in getting Chicago's story told — convincingly.

Common Cold Advice Given

From The Chicago Daily News

The president of the American Hospitals association says that "people should go into a hospital when they have a common cold," rather than spread the germ around their home and offices.

This may be well-meant medical advice, but it is our impression that hospitals are already understaffed and overcrowded with serious cases.

To take up bed space for victims of the common cold seems almost frivolous — and perhaps even an injustice to the various hospital-insurance plans, which were not devised to pay for our sniffles.

The risk of spreading infections at home is a lesser evil than crowding the hospitals with trivial ailments that eventually will be paid for in higher hospital-insurance premiums.

Unhappy, Not Bad

Elizabeth, N. J. — Mrs. Anita Quarles has been a deputy sheriff for Union county for 20 years, but it hasn't soured her on people. The gray-haired grandmother says, "I have never had a bad person in my custody. People in trouble with the law are no different from you or me... they are just unhappy and unfortunate."

Here, Somebody, Hold Our Coat!

Sales Taxes are Traditional Revenue Source in Some States

From The Public Expenditure Survey of Wisconsin

The sales tax is for many state governments as "traditional" a revenue source as the income tax is for Wisconsin.

Illness Costs Major Worry Of Oldsters

From The Waterloo Daily Courier

The cost of sickness is a major source of worry among elderly and retired people today. While social security pensions and private retirement annuities provide economic security while in good health, a major illness requiring hospitalization and surgery often finds the elderly person without the resources for adequate care.

Health insurance for the younger elements of the population has gone a long way to solve this problem; but such insurance for individuals over age 65 has been a difficult problem. Such persons are usually living on a reduced income at the same time that serious illnesses are apt to come more frequently.

For the "over 65" group as a whole, average income is down at exactly the period in their lives when average health care needs are up.

There are no complete solutions to this problem; but one major insurance company has recently offered a sound health insurance policy for the "over 65" age group. The coverage is ample to cover a major part — if not all — of the hospitalization and surgical expense of a serious illness. The policies cannot be canceled unless the company discontinues this type of policy. Premiums are kept low by reducing the "overhead" costs in sale of the insurance and collections of premiums. This involves the use of electronic accounting machines and mass selling techniques.

Possession of such a policy should go a long way to eliminate worry about the financial impact of health care. And wide participation in the plan by elderly people would also help to solve a major national problem in the health care of the increasing proportion of the population in the older age groups.

consin. Generally the sales tax was a product of the depression 30's when collections from the regular revenue sources were insufficient to finance government programs and governments recognized they had to have stability in their revenue sources and chose the most broadly-based tax source at hand.

It has become the most productive among state tax sources accounting for 22.7 per cent of total state tax collections in 1955-1956. It has become the most favored tax when a new source is brought into the state tax structure in recent years. Five states adopted it in the 1850's and it is under discussion in others including Massachusetts, Idaho, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

The majority of the general sales taxes levied by 33 of the 48 states were adopted in the 1830's. These have different names and the rates vary from 1/2 of 1 per cent in Indiana to 3 1/3 per cent in Washington.

Sales taxes are specifically levied on sales or are measured by sales. Commerce Clearing House in its state tax service points out that most state sales taxes are on retail sales of tangible personal property. It defines the two broad types of sales taxes: "Taxes imposed directly on sales are commonly known as 'consumers' sales taxes' since the tax is based on the consideration for each sale and is to be paid by the purchaser who buys at retail," and "Taxes measured by sales, i. e., on the gross receipts from sales are known as 'occupation' or 'license' taxes."

The taxable items vary under state laws with some including sales of services as well as tangible personal property.

Looking Backward

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Oct. 4, 1879.

How much did the State pay the Republican architect for superintending the construction of the Northern Hospital for the Insane, including the $1,500 allowed for drawing the plans? Thirty-two thousand four hundred dollars!

After the foundation was laid, how often did that superintending architect visit the work? Once a month!

How much did Alexander Mitchell pay for the plans and constant attendance of the supervising architect of the magnificent business structure by him erected in Milwaukee last year? A building which cost as much as the Northern Hospital? Ten thousand dollars!

And the architect stated that it was a munificent amount for the services rendered.

Who allowed the state to be thus exorbitantly and outrageously overcharged? Ask the Republican officials at Madison!

Why Federal Parks in Kettle Moraine Areas?

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—The contrast between thinking and practice in state and national governments is so sometimes shown in incidents of which the principals are not aware.

Such was the recent expedition through the state of a group of federal officials in ostensible study of the feasibility of a national moraine park that would put into public ownership for public use some of the distinctive geological districts of the state.

The men who made that trip, carefully being photographed at each stop for what was apparently the purpose of mustering electoral support for their plan, represent government with the greatest debt of any nation in modern history and which saw the adjournment of Congress recently with a whopping $12 billion budget deficit.

They were proposing a nationalistic gesture in a state which not only finished the fiscal year with a quite respectable budget balance of $19 millions—the best in some time—but which also is actually engaged in a prudent and planned way, in acquiring out of its own public tax funds some of the more valuable of the lands within the moraine pattern on the Wisconsin map.

THE CONTRAST

In any other context except government and politics this situation would appear ludicrous, like the beggar playing prince.

Yet not once during the long expedition and the reams of publicity that was inspired was there a comment about the anomaly of a debt-ridden, deficit-worrying national government proposing to do for Wisconsin something that it is already doing for itself, without pressure, without Washington encouragement, in its own way and strictly out of regard for its own present and probable future resources.

The state conservation department for two decades has been buying for public recreational use the best of the available parcels in the kettle moraine section of southern Wisconsin. It is now spending at the rate of $300,000 to $400,000 a year, a sum which the men elected to office here have felt is a respectable one and which maintains a pace that they feel is suited to the public will as they interpret it. If the people of Wisconsin want to proceed more rapidly, presumably the legislature of Wisconsin will accommodate them.

But the situation is a typical one. Federal money is by all odds the easiest public money to obtain. Each year more state officials are turning to Washington with appeals for money which they don't like to ask for from the state budget, or feel they won't get. Each year more of the cost of state and local government is being transferred, and more of the citizen's tax liability is being moved likewise.

WAY STATION

Gradually the state administration is becoming a kind of political receiving station for money remitted to Washington and returned.

A little incident in the capitol the other day told more than its participants may have been aware. Indeed, no one seemed to notice the incongruity of it. A committee of ranking state government bureaucrats sat cozily around a long table during a long morning, wondering at length whether they dared to ask the legislature for authority to do something they were certain the people of Wisconsin couldn't be happy without. It turned out that it was a matching arrangement, with the federal government standing to pay half, if the state was willing to pick up its half.

Somebody wondered whether the federal money would really be forthcoming.

"Oh, yes," piped up one eager state officer. "We are assured matching funds are the easiest to get in Washington."

Cities Begin Strong Surge For Equal Rights

From The Tulsa Tribune

Over the country as a whole there is a strong upsurge in the demand of cities for equal political rights. It has even spread to the national arena and we see Sen. Kennedy, a likely Democratic candidate for president, proposing a Magna Carta to give the congested areas at least an equal voice with the rural sections in congress and the state legislatures.

Sen. Kennedy is a city man. So is Vice President Nixon, the probable Republican candidate. And we are likely to soon have a big-city man governor of Oklahoma, for the first time in recent years. These are some of the signs of the times.

It's not too soon. A careful estimate by the Chicago Sun-Times the other day showed that city people in the United States pay 90 per cent of the taxes, yet are so grossly under-represented that it amounts to taxation without representation.

As every American knows, that's something that will not be suffered forever.

Husband Gets Decree, Wife Cold Shoulder

Boston — A Boston judge turned a cold ear to the contention of a Texas bride that New England weather was justification for leaving her husband.

Carl G. Irving, who married his wife while in the air force at New Braunfels, Texas, said she left him here because "she said she couldn't stand the weather." Probate Court Judge John V. Mahoney, ruled New England weather was no grounds for leaving a spouse. He gave Irving a divorce.

Bonduel Man Fined $100 for Speeding

New London Youth Jailed for Failure To Report Accident, Disorderly Conduct

Joseph E. Ciesielczyk, 22, route 1, Bonduel, was fined $100 Tuesday in municipal court for speeding 85 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone. His driver's license was revoked for a year, but Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe stayed revocation on the condition he is not arrested on a moving traffic violation within one year.

Ciesielczyk has two previous convictions, both in June, 1957. One was for illegal passing and the other for reckless driving.

James Herter, 22, route 2, New London, was fined $50 for failing to report an accident and $35 for disorderly conduct. He did not pay the fine immediately and was sent to jail.

Herter was arrested by Sgt. George Elise of the county traffic patrol Saturday in New London after he noticed the smashed car at the New London Community hospital. Herter had brought a companion, hurt in the accident, to the hospital.

Fined $50

Under questioning, Herter refused to tell where the accident happened and became abusive, Elise testified.

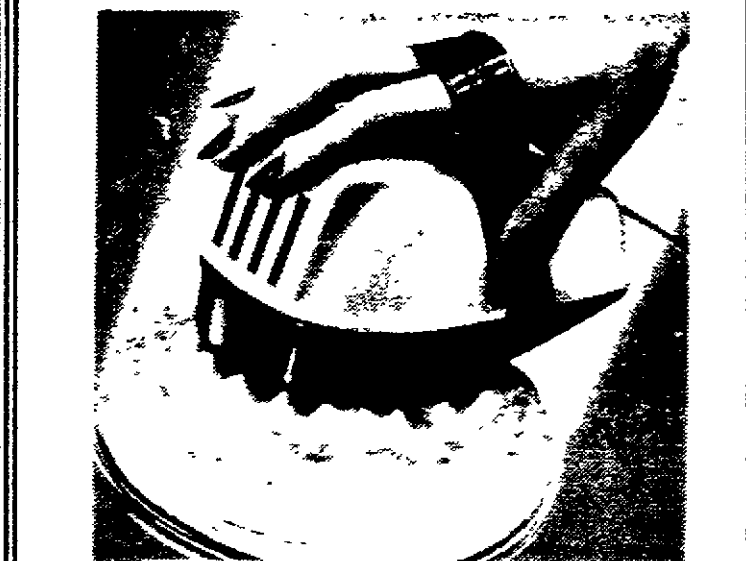

Bernard Lee Poole, 19, route 1, New London, was fined $50 and his license revoked for 60 days after he pleaded guilty of driving on the wrong side of the road. Poole was arrested after a county policeman had to get off the road to avoid being hit by Poole.

Eleven motorists were charged with speeding and assessed three points unless otherwise indicated. They were Thomas E. Sexton, 22, Hortonville, fined $15; Robert W. Rosenberg, 26, Kiel, forfeited $13.95; Gerald C. Wunderlich, 19, route 1, Appleton, fined $15; Walter E. Morack, 25, route 1, Hortonville, fined $50, six points; Robert J. McHugh, 21, route 1, Horton-street, New London. Also charged with missing a stop sign was James M. Evenson, 23, route 2, Pulaski, forfeited $13.95.

Other cases were:

William E. Kirk, 20, 830 E. Frances street, driving too fast for conditions, fined $25, revocation of driver's license for 60 days stayed on condition he is not arrested for moving violation within one year. Kirk was arrested by city police Saturday after his car failed to make a turn in the 300 block of E. Water street and struck a wall.

Ronald J. Rubsam, 21, 1625 S. Madison street, fined $10 for inattentive driving. Rubsam was arrested after his auto struck a parked car in the 1700 block of S. Kernan avenue Sunday.

Robert A. Much, 17, Dale, reckless driving, license revoked 30 days.

Three truckers were charged with license overloads. They were Orin Peterson, 36, route 2, West DePere, fined $15; Frank's Pure Food, Black Creek, forfeited $13.95; Milton H. Neubert and Sons, route 1, Appleton, fined $10.

Rae A. Webb, 39, 333 Main street, Neenan, no registration, fined $10.

Gary Schuh, 16, 602 S. Northland avenue, and James A. Kohl, 21, 624 W. Brewster street, were fined $10 each for illegal mufflers.

Fined for driving without a license were Edward H. Mueller, 23, route 2, Appleton, $15, and Paul Reynolds, 38, Hotel Appleton, $10.

Dorothy Spang, 18, route 2, Hilbert, was fined $25 and six points for speeding in a school zone.

Aaron G. Bartel, 19, route 1, Fremont, denied spilling a load on the highway and posted $13.95 for trial Oct. 10.

A charge of illegal parking against Peter Werner, 17, 303 Quincy street, New London, was dismissed on payment of costs.

Vernon R. Spence, 43, route 4, Appleton, was given 24 hours to show proof he had applied for a new registration.

Brown County Vets Arena Opens Nov. 11

First Month Will Feature Full Program Of Varied Activities

Green Bay — Brown county's new war veterans memorial arena will be dedicated on Nov. 11—Veterans day.

A full month of varied activities will follow to demonstrate the versatility of the building as a recreational center.

The dedication program will break down into three phases. The building will be officially presented to Brown county by the architect and contractors. Board Chairman

p. m. Thursday in the Appleton public library conference room.

A studio session will follow.

James Francois will hand over the keys to Manager Jocko Braley and members of the arena staff.

Veterans groups will dedicate the building in a memorial service in honor of the county's war veterans and in memory of its war dead.

Versatility

For the evening's entertainment, the arena management will present a pageant on how the arena will serve the citizens of Brown county. Skits and tableaux will be used to demonstrate the building's versatility and facilities.

Skating professional John Carlo will assist Braley and Loren Doane, assistant manager, in staging the show.

The day after the dedication, Nov. 12, there will be a hoe down for square dance groups sponsored by the local square dance club. On Nov. 14 the Packerland Kennel club will stage a dog show and obedience training exhibition as a benefit for seeing eye dogs for the blind. On Saturday, Nov. 15, will be matinee and evening performances of the Adams Brothers indoor circus.

Open House

An open house at the arena will follow the Packer - Los ing constitutional prohibition against state bonded indebtedness.

'Right-to-Work' Plank Out of GOP Platform

(Democrats have asserted that Gov. Thomson and the Republicans favor "bootleg" debt through the device of quasi-public building corporations and that the people of Wisconsin should have a chance to vote on whether they want direct state bonds to finance long-term improvements.)

The GOP platform also reflected indirectly Gov. Thomson's claims about Sen. Gaylord Nelson's position by pledging a continuation of the highway fund segregation system. Thomson has claimed his Democratic opponent would violate that long-standing policy of the state.

Most other sections of the long and detailed platform repeated positions of the Republican voluntary convention, although the candidates edited the planks considerably and in a few instances made them more specific.

Softened on Subsidies

One change pledged legislation for a state college student loan system that would permit credit up to $2,000 per qualified student.

Another softened the party position on the issue of federal subsidies for state and local governmental operations.

As the new platform reads, it proposes a "reappraisal of current federal aids" and a close "scrutiny of all newly proposed aids," rather than flat opposition to federal financial intervention in local affairs.

Although the platform committee was in session for several hours while other delegates wandered aimlessly about the capitol, the adoption of the document was routine. There was not a single word spoken from the floor in praise or criticism.

Major Speech

Claude J. Jasper, state party chairman, sat with the platform committee during a part of its deliberations behind closed doors.

Thomson also worked with the committee, and on the night before invited key legislative leaders to his executive mansion for dinner for a preview of platform contents.

Thomson's speech to the convention — one of his major campaign advances — complained mildly that Republicans had little in the way of excitement to offer, because they were campaigning on their record.

Therefore, he said, Republicans must show the voters of Wisconsin something to vote against. He had some suggestions.

Labor Bosses

The people will vote against Democrats, he said, because Democrats are financed by out-of-state money largely controlled by CIO labor bosses "who last winter publicly announced from their vacation quarters that they intend to take over Wisconsin state government at any cost."

Thomson said people will respond to the knowledge that Republicans have delivered good government with an actual decrease in the rate of income taxation over that levied in earlier periods.

The Democrats will push the state heavily into debt, he argued, "pick the pockets of your constituents, confiscate their incomes and drive vital job opportunities for their children out of the state."

Thomson and the other Republican candidates evidently intended their expression against "terror and coercion" to pacify conservative elements within and without the party that have stood for outlawing of closed shop contracts.

Evidently referring to the prolonged Kohler strike — although he did not name it — Thomson said there should be legislation to "halt this invasion of violence by out-of-state CIO bosses and to prevent the use of these contemptible and illegal tactics in labor-management relations in Wisconsin."

Democrats Continue Sales Tax Opposition

could be put to the voters as a referendum on "the issue of Catlinism." Lucey reported that only two or three Republican assembly candidates had answered his query on Mark Catlin, former Assembly speaker now seeking reelection, by stating they would oppose Catlin if he were again a candidate for speaker.

The amended taxation plank pledged that the Democrats "will continue to oppose the adoption of any general sales tax and any other tax that will make our system more regressive." It kept the proposed taxation study, being pushed by Nelson, but added that "such a study will insure that future decisions on tax policy will be based on the ability to pay."

The convention also added an amendment to back Nelson's campaign charges that dummy state building corporations are creating a state debt with a cloudy legal basis and high interest rates. The amendment said the party favors "giving the voters an opportunity to decide whether the state should incur a legal debt for state buildings under realistic limits."

Explains Charge

Detailing his charge that Thomson was using non-partisan officials in his campaign, Nelson said the State Division of Industrial Development was doing research and providing forums for campaign speeches.

Nelson said that Paul Rogan, state insurance commissioner, had told "dozens and dozens of insurance men in Wisconsin" that they must support Thomson or face an alternative of having an "unfriendly" commissioner. G. H. Bakke, a state highway commissioner, Nelson charged, is telling county board committees "under instructions from the governor" that Nelson would end the segregation of highway department revenues.

Thomson made the same charge in a speech to the County Boards convention despite the fact he has voted in the State Senate against ending segregation of highway use taxes, Nelson said.

The resolution on China policy said the Eisenhower administration should reexamine its program, said the UN should be asked to act promptly on the question of Quemoy and Matsu, and criticized Vice President Nixon for a statement that a report on state department mail opposition to present policy should not have been made.

State Sen. Leland McParland, Cudahy, proposed that action on the resolution be postponed though he agreed its charges were correct.

"When we are in trouble, whether its Republican trouble or what, we must back our government. I condemn the method by which we got drawn into this. But once we were drawn into it, I'm for my country right or wrong," McParland said.

County Race

Lucey said Catlin has a "reasonable chance" of reelection in Outagamie county because of the presence of an independent candidate in the race. Lucey maintained the independent is running to help Catlin.

Other platform amendments included four presented last week by Reynolds. These were for legal action against barriers for Wisconsin milk in other states, legal assistance by the attorney general in civil rights cases, a "people's counsel" for hearings before state regulatory agencies, and a bi-partisan commission on corrupt practices and election laws.

The convention also added amendments to pledge the continued segregation of highway revenues for road purposes, to back the proposed Moraine National park, to study a national forest for the south shore of Lake Superior, and to study Conservation commission changes leading to further use of professional persons.

McParland was reelected chairman of the functionary state central committee. Mrs. Marguerite Benson was named vice-chairman, and Mrs. Proxmire was elected secretary-treasurer.

GOP Loses Ground On Isolated Issues

BY SAMUEL LUBELL

However heavy the Democratic gains this November may prove, it would be a mistake to interpret them as indication the country is turning back to either Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal or Harry Truman's Fair Deal.

My interviews with hundreds of typical voters in 11 states during recent weeks show that wholly new issues and emotions have arisen which make impossible any such restoration of the political past.

Take the south as an example. The bitterness stirred by the Little Rock school crisis has killed off all immediate Republican hopes for a 2-party south. But for much of the south it also has become impossible to return to the old 1-party Democratic monopoly that prevailed before 1948.

In fact, for this November the Republicans must be given a better-than-fighting chance of holding onto their congressional seats in Dallas and Charlotte, N.C., and perhaps those in the St. Petersburg area of Florida and the Roanoke section of Virginia.

The explanation lies primarily in the fact that in many of these larger southern cities the voting follows the same line of economic conflict that characterizes most northern cities.

In the worker neighborhoods of Dallas, for example, the feeling against the Republican party is bitter indeed. Many 1-time Eisenhower voters cry sullenly, "He's just a general. All he knows is how to call out troops." Or, "The Republicans sure tore their britches for me on Little Rock."

Northern Half

Others declare, "The Republicans always try to put their foot on the south's neck." Or, "I'll never vote Republican again. They always bring hard times."

But when one crosses into the more well-to-do, northern half of Dallas it is almost like visiting another city. Here the residents, almost all home owners, are mainly white-collar people, salesmen, junior executives, plant managers and retired persons who have seen the worth of their pensions and insurance cut by inflation over the years.

Fair numbers of these residents actually favor integration: others defend Eisenhower's sending troops into Little Rock as "the only thing he could do." But even those who have turned against Eisenhower still are strong for Bruce Alger, the Republican congressman.

"We're against all those subsidies and so is Alger," explained the wife of one plant manager. Other typical comments were:

"Alger is a man of principle who says what he thinks."

"He's against all those giveaways."

Sharp Contrast

How sharp the contrast is between "white shirt" and "blue overall" Dallas was neatly capsuled in two remarks about Alger's Democratic opponent, Barefoot Sanders.

"How could a man who calls himself Barefoot carry any weight in Washington?" snorted one dignified Alger supporter. A factory worker, though, felt, "I don't know either man, but I figure a fellow who calls himself Barefoot might have been honest once."

As long as the Democratic party in the north remains labor-oriented, the more conservative, business-minded voters in Dallas and other southern cities will search about for the equivalent of a second party to assert their interests.

As a matter of fact, the Democratic party in Texas has already been transformed into the arena for two ideological factions, which openly call themselves conservatives and liberals. I was struck by how many of Alger's supporters proudly proclaimed, "We're conservatives," with the same fervent loyalty that others might say, "I'm a Democrat" or "I'm a Republican."

My own interviewing through Dallas showed Sanders running ahead of Alger by a small margin. However, in the worker neighborhoods many housewives and their husbands said they did not intend to vote this fall, while the sense of political urgency seemed stronger among the higher-income families.

Probably, though, the election outcome will be determined by how the more ar-

Obscure Statues In Mexico City Now Identified

Mexico City — Officials are finally getting around to identifying a bunch of obscure statues scattered in the center of its capital.

Statues and monuments are a dime a dozen in this sentimental city. Most of the large ones are familiar, even to tourists.

Everyone knows the Indian in the circle facing the continental Hilton hotel is Cuauhtemoc, last Aztec emperor, and that the gentleman riding the horse in front of the lottery building is Spain's king Charles IV.

Liberator Simon Bolivar, on another horse, also is well known.

But there are scores of other statues that have weathered rains, storms and earthquakes but outlived memory. They are unknown to the average Mexican.

"Who knows?" has been the answer to tourists' inquiries. City officials want this remedied.

Preliminary research has shown the statues honor various Mexican generals, revolutionary heroes, scientists and teachers.

Steel placards are going to be tacked onto each statue to nail down the identification.

John Kitchell Leads 'Y' Drive

John Kitchell received a pair of world series tickets for leading the YMCA membership drive the last two weeks, Chairman Bart Hammond said.

He sold 37 memberships. Kitchell is a member of the navy team.

Runners were Frank Sanders, 21, Mrs. Park Guyette, 21, David Lindsey, 17, and Jay Parish, 11.

The navy leads the army 300-310. The drive ends Monday.

Nixon Making Pitch for Democrat Aid

Says GOP Has Brought Prosperity To United States

Los Angeles — (U) — Vice President Nixon, steering clear of California's No. 1 election controversy, is going after Democratic votes for hard pressed Republican candidates in his home state.

His theme: The Republicans have brought you peace and prosperity.

Nixon put it to California voters — 7 to 5 Democratic — this way in a statewide television speech last night on launching a 3-day tour in behalf of the GOP ticket:

If you want to take a chance on a change, vote Democratic.

But if you want to continue the best years in this country's history, vote Republican.

The talk was notably free of partisan attacks against the Democrats who rolled up a commanding lead over the Republican slate in the June primary.

Declines Battle

The vice president — relaxed and informal — reminded Californians of their "great tradition" of voting for the man rather than the party.

Major contributions came from county Republican organizations, the report showed.

First off, though, Nixon made it clear he wasn't going to get involved in the state's roaring battle over a "right to work" initiative on the November ballot. The measure would outlaw a union shop.

Splits Party

Sen. William F. Knowland, Republican candidate for governor split GOP ranks by coming out for the initiative. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, running for the senate, and most other Republican nominees are dead set against it.

Nixon was asked at a news conference on his arrival how a Californian, he will vote on prop. 18. He declined to say.

In reply to questions, he announced he would vote against two other controversial proposals on the ballot. One, which would lower the state sales tax from three to 2 percent.

Then why didn't he speak up on the "right to work" issue?

Nixon came equipped with a ready answer in a letter to him from the White House.

President Eisenhower wrote that "right to work" was an issue to be determined by the individual states and not by federal statute.

Republicans List Financial Receipts

Madison — (U) — The Republican party of Wisconsin reported to the secretary of state's office Tuesday that it received $23,026 and spent $37,988 in the Aug. 18-Sept. 15 period.

Major contributions came from county Republican organizations, the report showed.

Chiang Wants His Forces to Stay on Isles

ing in many places on the issues involved.

"I hope," the president said, "that efforts will be made to enable the American people to understand what the communist attacks on Kinmen (Quemoy) mean."

"While outwardly they are directed against the territory of the Republic of China, they are actually intended as assaults against America's first line of defense in Asia."

Would Expel U. S.

"The objectives of the Chinese communists are Taiwan (Formosa), to expel American influence from the Formosa strait area and the western Pacific and to strike a series of blows to free world prestige in Asia."

Chiang said communist objectives have been made plain in two letters sent by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to President Eisenhower, as well as in statements by the Chinese communist bosses and in editorials in the Peiping Peoples Daily.

"All this makes it evident that the international communists are launching a two-front campaign, one in the east and the other in the west, both directed against the United States."

Former Gov. Walter J. Kohler was listed as the donor of $1,000.

Chiang said, "that the Chinese troops defending Kinmen are also safeguarding America's defenses in the east."

Chiang reiterated his arguments that "if you ask the communists for a cease-fire they will use it to blackmail you."

"Likewise," he said, "if you show them you are afraid of war, they will use your fear for purposes of extortion."

"The more you are afraid, the more they will exploit you," Chiang recalled his own statement at his news conference in Taipei Monday that although the military strength of the Chinese communists was not commensurate with their political ambitions, they were obviously preparing for a major war.

Scoffing at the idea of a cease-fire in Formosa strait, Chiang asked, "has there ever been any treaty since the Soviet communists overran Russia in 1917 that they have not violated?"

Eisenhower warned against forgetting the large issue of resistance to force when focusing attention on a geographical point of dispute.

When he was asked why so many allies failed to see the point he had made—that was the way the question was put to Eisenhower said the question was difficult and he did not know exactly.

He then recalled during the 1930s efforts of the democracies to make adjustments with Japanese expansionists in the Far East and with Hitler in Europe. He mentioned the cases of Manchuria, Czechoslovakia and the Munich deal.

No Easy Way

He did not know, he said, why the human being is so constructed that he believes there's an easier solution than standing firm against aggression—why he thinks that by feeding aggression a little bit, a teaspoonful, aggression will not want to run the whole course.

Eisenhower said that in this and other considerations there is a very heavy weight on leaders who have to carry the responsibility for making decisions.

Eisenhower said red China's record and conduct made it difficult even to study the issue of potential Chinese communist membership in the United Nations. He cited U. N. labeling of the reds as aggressors in Korea, declared they had violated armistice terms in Vietnam by military training of the North Vietnamese, and said they had refused to release the Americans remaining in prison on the China mainland. Four are still held.

When these situations are changed, Eisenhower summed up, the United States will have a different problem on its hands so far as the U. N. issue is concerned but as of now the red Chinese record makes the situation pretty clean cut.

Employment Shows Increase in State

Madison — (U) — Unemployment in Wisconsin dropped to 73,200 in September, compared to 83,500 in August, A. Thomas Rose, director of the state employment service, said today.

Employment increased by 2,700 in September, bringing to 1,536,800 the number of persons on Wisconsin employer payrolls.

Rose said he looked for a change next month when layoffs in seasonal food processing work are reported.

Rose added that September employment in agriculture was held up because of weather conditions which tended to retard growth and maturity of a number of crops.

son to think this would lead to a reliable peace arrangement in the Formosa area.

Eisenhower was asked whether he agreed with Dulles' statement that it would be foolish to maintain large forces in the offshore islands after a cease-fire.

He said that as a soldier he believes it was not a good thing to put large forces there in the first place. But he said there were always differences among free nations — family differences.

He said he could conceive of no possible solution that he, Dulles and others here have not studied in the great hope that a peaceful settlement would come about.

UW Officials Hear Enthusiasm For Extension in Fox Cities

Backing, Testimonials Offered by Local Leaders in Various Fields

The University of Wisconsin president and other school officials heard strong and enthusiastic support Tuesday evening for a new UW extension center building in the Fox Cities.

Pledging their backing were about 75 educational, political, business and civic leaders from throughout the Fox Cities who met in the Outagamie county courthouse annex.

They gave unanimous approval to the project and decided to let the site be chosen by a joint committee of the Winnebago and Outagamie county boards subject to approval by UW authorities.

President C. A. Elvehjem was accompanied by Dr. L. H. Adolfson, director of UW extension programs, Dr. R. A. Hanley, director of extension centers, and Dr. Vern Imhoff, director of the Menasha extension.

Salvation to UW "Extension centers are a salvation to the University of Wisconsin," Dr. Elvehjem contended, and asserted enrollment in extensions will grow at a greater rate than the UW in Madison or Milwaukee.

Dr. Elvehjem estimated a 70 per cent increase in high school graduates by 1970, noted 1,700 students already enrolled in the eight extension centers throughout Wisconsin, but added every effort will be made to keep the Madison campus in balance rather than strictly a graduate school.

"It is a thrill to see unanimous interest in our programs; for I believe we get better dividends from money invested in education than from money invested in any other place," he commented.

Adult Program Dr. Adolfson explained the core of extension work is centered about the freshman and sophomore level but adult programs in many fields also are arranged where facilities are available.

our young people in this area."

Gordon Bubolz, Appleton businessman and chairman of the meeting: "This area will back not only this one project but the UW program as a whole."

John Wilterding, Menasha industrialist: "An extension would provide education on a non-campus basis to a segment of the population. It was never thought of as a campus institution and would provide an education without the frills of extra-curricular activities."

Democrats Pile Up Record Lead Over Republicans

Sacramento, Calif. — (AP) — California Democrats have piled up a record lead over Republicans in the number of registered voters. Since the June primary they have out-registered Republicans by up to 5 to 1 in 20 counties checked by the Associated Press.

The average appeared to be about 3-1 in favor of the Democrats, who held a 7-5 margin in registration for the primary. Then the Democrats had 3,542,374 voters to 2,552,678 for the GOP.

Registration since that time indicates that the number of eligible for the November election may exceed 61 million for the first time in the state's history. The record is 6,408,821 signed up for the 1956 presidential election.

Even in such traditionally Republican counties as Santa Barbara in southern California and Marin in northern California, the Democrats gained voters. In Santa Barbara, 2,237 Democrats registered to bring their party's total to 28,540 while the Republicans added 1,341 for a total of 29,881. In Marin county, the Democrats registered 3,033 since the primary compared to 1,090 for the GOP, making the totals 28,238 Democrats and 31,993 Republicans.

Normally Democratic counties showed far higher margins. George Simon, president of the Kaukauna city council: "We, too, carry a large share of Outagamie county taxes but we get quite a bit in return. We will be working hard to promote an extension for our own area but, if that's not possible, we'll promote for the entire Fox Cities."

George Howden, Appleton businessman: "We invest about $5,000 in each student in Appleton public schools. We can keep the dividends at home provided educational facilities are close by to keep

Receives Probation In Non-Support Case

Charles Krake, 22, route 2, Menasha, Tuesday in municipal court pleaded guilty of failing to support his wife and minor child and was placed on probation for two years. Judge Oscar J. Schmiede sentenced him to from one to two years in the state prison, but stayed execution in favor of probation.

Robert Magnuson, 40, formerly of Appleton, pleaded innocent of failing to support his wife and eight children ranging from eight months to 15 years. Bond of $1,000 was ordered and the preliminary hearing set for Oct. 13.

Deanery Women Attend National Convention

Mrs. Hubert Wetak, president of the Outagamie county deanery of the Green Bay Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, and Mrs. Harry Long, diocesan international relations chairman attended the 29th annual convention of the National Council of Catholic Women at St. Louis, Mo. The convention was held Sept. 20 to 24 with over 10,000 Catholic women attending. Mrs. Hubert Wetak was chosen recorder of the deanery council presidents meeting. Honorary chairman of the meeting was Bishop Allan Babcock of Grand Rapids, Mich., with Mrs. M. Quade presiding. Mrs. Harry Long assisted at the international relations booth.

The women were taken on a conducted tour of the city including a tour of the studio where the Sacred Heart television program is televised. The Rev. Eugene Murphy, S. J. of the Sacred Heart program explained the procedure in televising the program.

The Green Bay Diocesan Council of Catholic Women sponsors the program over Channel 2 at 9:15 a. m. Sunday.

Over Shielding of Children Can Do Harm, Educator Declares

Toronto, Ont. — (AP) — An American university dean who thinks many children are over-protected says they can be toughened against mental illness if they are exposed to emotional experiences when they are young.

Dr. Edward G. McGavran of the University of North Carolina's public health school, told the Ontario Public Health association's annual meeting that shielding children from emotional strains is resulting in a population susceptible to mental illness when it is exposed to shocks later in life.

McGavran said controlled emotional shocks might help the now-coddled children. The rising mental disease rate might also be checked if they were taught to work, he said.

Mrs. C. B. "There's too much space between the built-in shelves on both sides of a window in our living room. Strips of wall show above books on three shelves on both sides, and more above figurines and other objects I display on the other shelves. Do you think the effect would be better if I painted the shelf linings a color to contrast with the walls instead of match them, as they do now?"

Another plain color wouldn't fill in the spots you feel are too bare looking unless it's much darker than the walls and the books and objects are also dark and blend into the new color. A better idea might be to use paper in a tiny all-over pattern for the shelf linings, but make sure it is not strong enough to detract from the importance of the displayed objects. Don't use it if it risks competing with them too much.

In Good Taste Question on Party for Youngster

Dear Mrs. Post: Do you consider a 4 and 5-year-old child old enough to attend a birthday party without his (or her) mother? I am giving my daughter her first large birthday party in the near future. The mothers usually attend these parties, too, but my house is quite small and I cannot possibly accommodate the mothers as well as the children. Will you please tell me how I can handle this situation without slighting the mothers?

Answer: If you are able to control all of these 5-year-olds without the help of their mothers, it will be simple to explain to them your lack of space and ask them to bring their children and to come back for them at a certain hour. I am sure the mothers will not feel slighted.

Late Wedding Present Dear Mrs. Post: I have received a formal invitation to a reception given at a hotel for my aunt, her niece and her husband who are returning for a visit from abroad where the young people were married two years ago. No gift was sent at the time of their marriage. I'd like to know if it is necessary now to take, or send, a gift on this occasion.

Answer: There is no obligation to send a present, but if you regretted not being able to send a gift at the time of the marriage you may quite properly send one now.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 3 DOES! Frightening, non-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... only parasites their medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and safely. Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults. Perfect for Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

Alcoholic Fondness for Taxis Really a Battle of the Bottle

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I've been married 14 years and have five children. My husband makes $73 a week take-home pay. More than half of it goes for taxi rides.

I know this is hard to believe but I'll explain it and maybe you can suggest something. I'm plenty fed up and don't know how much longer I can take it.

Almost every night after work, my husband drives to a bar and drinks himself silly. Then he forgets where he parked his car and has to take a taxi home. The next morning he's got to hire a taxi to go looking for his car because he can't spare the time to go by bus.

Last month he gave me only $120. He carries his lunch and doesn't spend money on anything else. His taxi rides are driving me crazy. What can I do?—ZELDA everything within your power to see that he gets it.

DEAR ANN: I'm in a terrible spot and need some advice at once. Just this week I learned I'm going to have a child. Both my husband and I are thrilled. After 13 years of fruitless effort we had resigned ourselves to a childless marriage.

My husband's oldest brother is a physician. I never cared for him as a person and have no respect for his ability as a doctor. He gossips about his patients. I consider this immoral as well as highly unethical.

My husband insists I use his brother as my doctor during my pregnancy. I know he wants to save money and every penny counts with us—especially now. But the thought of having a patient-doctor relationship with this poor makes my skin crawl.

Shell I be practical and "rise above my petty feelings" as my husband suggests? I'll leave it to you.—FELICIA

DEAR ANN: Tell your husband to "rise against HIS petty feelings" (for the back, that is) and insist on a doctor of your choice.

Your state of mind in the coming months is far more important than the money you'd save by accepting the free medical services of a relative. Cut down somewhere else and select a doctor with whom you are comfortable.

DEAR ANN: Last Christmas the owner of a tavern in our neighborhood sold my husband two watches for $12 apiece. He guaranteed the watches would run for a year. After two months both watches stopped so we gave them back to the man. He said he'd have them fixed.

Several months have passed and every time we ask him for the watches he gives us another excuse. What should we do about this?—SUSPICIOUS

If you wanted to buy a glass of beer you wouldn't go to a jewelry shop, would you? So why buy watches in a tavern?

Your youngsters will seldom have all his buttons if you sew them on too tight. Use heavy thread and leave a bit of "pulling room." Then small operators can get that button through without tearing it off. On jackets and coats, use elastic thread for longest button-on life.

A man who drinks himself silly every night and can't find his car is much better off in a taxi. But this is no comfort to a woman who's trying to feed and clothe five kids on $120 a month.

Your big problem isn't keeping him out of the taxis, it's keeping him out of the bars. Call the Family Service Bureau and ask if there's a Rehabilitation Center in your city. Inquire about A. A. Your husband needs help and you owe it to your children to do

What Price Housecleaning?

Do you pay for a shining home at the cost of your own appearance? It's an unnecessary practice!

The homemaker has beauty opportunities—denied to other workers. As no other toiler, she can dovetail beauty routines with her labors. Here are just a few of the ways:

Before grimy tasks, remove nail polish, slather on hand lotion and don work gloves. Afterward, your hands will look like a salon product and your nails will be halfway to a manicure.

For a skin treatment, cream your face prior to steamy jobs. The combination of cream and steam tones up the skin.

Apply tonic to your scalp and let it go to work for your hair's beauty while you work for your home's.

In performing every chore, try to bring all your muscles into play: squat to pick up

War Between Sexes Promoted by Articles in Women's Magazines

BY HUGH A. MULLIGAN

New York — While men daily in barber chairs over male magazine articles on fly tying, rhinoceros hunting and love along the lower Zambezi, their wives are at the beauty parlor digesting the insidious innards of the women's magazines.

In the never-cold war between the sexes, this is like pitting books for children against the latest training manuals of the army war college.

The men's periodicals are for escape and relaxation; the women's for deadly serious strategy and ultimate conquest.

What chance does a full-page picture pullout of Anita Ekberg have against a whole phalanx of morally indignant clergymen, psychiatrists and marriage counselors armed to the teeth with handy hints on how to keep the male animal at bay, bring him to heel and keep him from scratching the furniture?

Article Titles "Are Women Behind Politically?" "How to Talk to Husbands." "Faced With Infidelity, What Can the Wise Wife Do?" "Handling Alcoholic Husbands." "Can This Marriage Be Saved?" "84 Ways to Make Your Marriage More Exciting."

These are just a few article titles culled from recent issues of Redbook, Woman's Day, McCall's, Ladies Home Journal and similar arsenals of feminine aggression. By comparison, the average man's magazine is as toothless as a lion on the library lawn.

The inflammatory fodder fed female readers almost invariably starts with the premise that her husband is at heart a harmless, frisky oaf, given to shedding hair and barking too loud, who can be curried and combed, taught a few tricks, but never will emerge junior grand

School Substitutes Attend Workshop on Curriculum Materials

Substitute teachers in Appleton public schools gathered at Morgan school Tuesday afternoon for a workshop on various phases of the elementary curriculum. It was the first workshop for substitutes ever held here.

Under discussion were the new plan books, art and music program, and the use of workbooks. They also met with principals to discuss present methods of working with substitutes.

Stand-in teachers also will attend an audio-visual workshop later this year.

Hopeful Playwright Doesn't Give Up

New York — Irene Kamp is one playwright who doesn't give up easily.

The author of "The Young Strangers" has seen her comedy get close to production on several occasions, but something has always intervened.

Now she has revised it as the script for a musical and retitled the project "Praise Me to the Skies." Producer save fatiguing strain, and Lawrence Carr has taken it under consideration in its new form.

Works From Beloit Gallery Exhibited at Campus Art Center

An exhibit of works provided by the Schermerhorn gallery of Beloit is now on display at the Worcester art center on the Lawrence college campus. The following artists are represented:

Glenn R. Bradshaw, of the art department at the University of Illinois, has several paintings in the show. His work has received 15 prizes and has been exhibited in nearly all the major cities in the country.

Robert Broderson, originally from Connecticut and now on the faculty at Duke university, holds art degrees from Duke and the State university of Iowa.

Werner Drewes, professor of design at Washington university in St. Louis, is a well known painter and printmaker. His work is part of the permanent collection in museum in the following American cities: Brooklyn, St. Louis, Seattle, Chicago, San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Robert E. Marx, who now holds the Ballenger chair in art at Flint junior college of Michigan previously taught drawing and design at the University of Wisconsin. His work has been part of exhibits in both Europe and America.

8 AAL Officials Attend Meeting

State Official Gets Bushels of Mail, Odd Requests From Schoolchildren

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—A careful reader of the Journal of Wisconsin Education might get the idea that one state official is somewhat vexed about some classroom teachers whose charges write to Madison by the hundreds for information on various subjects.

M. G. Toepel, chief of the legislative reference library, tells the story of his experiences in handling letters from school children written in a mess of spelling and other traits shown by the letters that come in great masses each time school terms resume.

State Against Gas Rate Increases Without Sanction
Madison — Atty. Gen. Honeck said Monday Wisconsin has joined the U. S. Supreme court to uphold a lower court ruling preventing natural gas firms collecting rate increases before government approval.
Honeck said the state of Wisconsin has filed a supreme court brief as a friend of the court.
He said the brief conveys the contention that the federal natural gas act was intended to protect consumers and that "this protection can only be fully achieved by requiring natural gas companies to justify any rate increase before it is put into effect."
Honeck said, "The practice of natural gas companies of putting rate increases into effect without the sanction of any governmental agency amounts to nothing more than a 'forced loan' from the consumer."

Council May Pick Police Station Site

Aldermen Expected to Decide On One of Three Locations

Neenah — Final decision on location of the new police station is expected at tonight's council meeting. Opponents called for long-range planning and a different site.

Representatives of the Neenah planning committee of the chamber of commerce will present to the aldermen two alternatives to the city-owned site at the southwest corner of E. Doty avenue and Walnut street.

The alternates are the northeast corner of Church and Caroline streets and the northeast corner of Church and Franklin streets. The latter site is at 303 Church street (corner of Church and Caroline streets).

Residents have voted twice already on the police station matter and are expected to vote a third time. First vote was on a $270,000 bond issue for the station. It lost by 201 votes. Opponents called for long-range planning and a different site.

Last month electors by 30 votes expressed preference for the city-owned Walnut-Doty site over "some other site." Though not mentioned in the referendum question, the Church-Franklin site had been proposed by the chamber of commerce committee.

Since then, the chamber committee has secured options on the third site at Church and Caroline streets. It is less costly than the other two.

In addition to deciding on the site, the council is expected to call for a bond issue and set the amount to raise for the station.

A referendum must be held. The council wants to put the question on the Nov. 2 ballot.

Volunteer Workers at Winnebago county hospital received pins from the North Winnebago County Mental Health association chapter Tuesday night. Left to right are Dr. Gordon Hardie, new chapter president, Woodrow Wilson, area director for the State Mental Health association, Mrs. Harold H. Smith and Mrs. Henry Ben-nett, new directors who received pins.

Equalized Valuation of the Joint Menasha school district was checked by city and town officials Tuesday with a representative of the state supervisor of assessments office, Fond du Lac. Left to right are City Assessor Tom Zeininger, Mayor R. G. Du Charme and City Treasurer Frank A. Beck, all of Menasha; Matthew Gravit, Jr., of the state assessment office; and Edward Hesselman, town of Menasha clerk.

1958 Valuation of Twin Cities, Nearby Towns Set at $277 Million

Neenah-Menasha and Vicinity Hiked $9 Million by State Assessors

Oshkosh — State taxation department assessors increased the equalized valuation of the Twin City area this year over $9 million.

Equalized valuation of the cities and towns of Neenah and Menasha is $227,179,990, or more than 44 per cent of the Winnebago county equalized value of $511 million.

Valuations reported to the county board taxation committee Tuesday showed a $4,117,630 hike in Neenah's equalized valuation and a $1,713,630 increase in Menasha's.

Town of Menasha's equalized value was raised $1,861,300 and the town of Neenah's $1,367,830.

State figures set Neenah's value at $96,986,050. The city added $3,186,000 in new buildings, $5,000 in land improvements and $35,300 by annexation. About $158,300 was taken from the tax roll. Another $15,000 reduction occurred when annexed property listed as mercantile while in the town of Neenah became manufacturing property in the city.

Menasha property was valued at $75,389,930. It had new buildings worth $1,640,800 and $7,900 in annexed property. Property removed from tax rolls amounted to $38,000.

$127,800 Taken off Roll

Recommended full value of the town of Menasha is $41,38,880. Its new buildings came to $1,625,000, but it lost $7,900 in property to the city of Menasha and $127,800 in value through property removed from tax rolls by relocation of Highway 41.

Town of Neenah's valuation jumped 10.53 per cent, although it lost $35,300 in property to the city of Neenah. Its $1,233,200 in new building brought the town valuation to $3,445,130.

Matthew Gravit, Jr., of the state's supervisor of assessments office, pointed out the new Bergstrom Paper company office and part of the

$34,188 Pledged In Chest Drive

Neenah — Contributions totaling $34,188 brought the Neenah-Menasha Community Chest drive up to 26 per cent of its $121,800 goal today.

Received thus far are $17,392 in advance gifts and $16,796 in corporate gifts. Industrial solicitation began this week in the drive to help 10 Red Feather agencies.

The drive continues through October.

George Narovec, Appleton architect, was authorized to draw final plans and submit them to the committee within 30 days. Bids will be sought after final plans are approved.

The addition will be built on the front of the present building and work is expected to begin in December. Anticipation of completion date is September, 1959.

The six new rooms will be used for lower grades.

Dinner for Leaders Opens Brigade Year

Adult Staff to Get Copies of New Program Manual

Neenah — Boys' Brigade adult leaders and their wives will kick off the year's activities with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the Brigade building.

Copies of a new looseleaf leaders' manual detailing the history of the Brigade, its organization, activities and policies will be distributed.

The booklet was compiled during the summer by a committee composed of Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennés, chairman, David Jones, Charles Neubauer, Al Goerlitz, Orville Peterson, Gordon Altenhofen, Richard Boehm, Carl Williams and Coordinator Jack Casper of the leadership staff and Bill Kuehl and Robin Graebner of the Brigade membership.

After the supper and program, cards and games will be played and rifle shooting and dancing are scheduled.

Regular Brigade meetings begin Monday.

Car, Bakery Truck Collide at Oshkosh

Oshkosh — The rear of a car driven by Mrs. Genevieve Koebel, Oshkosh, was damaged when the auto collided with a bakery truck while backing out of a parking stall at a Main street supermarket Tuesday afternoon. The truck was driven by James O'Connell, 22, 200 W. Prospect avenue, Appleton.

Cars Damaged

Neenah — Cars driven by Judith R. Paul, 16, 305 Nicolet boulevard, and Rosemarie Graner, 17, 814 Fifth street, Menasha, were damaged in a collision at First street and E. Forest avenue Tuesday evening. Miss Paul was turning left off E. Forest avenue to go north on First street and Mrs. Graner was headed south on First street, police said.

Space Subject Of Menasha Library Books

Menasha — Man's newest frontier in science is space and the Elisha D. Smith Public library has purchased two new books on the subject. They are Wolfgang Mueller's "Man Among the Stars" and Comdr. David G. Holmes' "What's Going on in Space." Muller, one of Germany's top science writers, probes the beginnings, progress and prospects of man's space venture. Librarian Marvin Melick said.

Navy Comdr. Holmes discusses man's exploration into space. A companion volume is Lt. Gen. James Gavin's "War and Peace in the Space Age."

Adventure awaits the reader of "The Great Age of Discovery" by Paul Herrman, story of the men, from Columbus on, who opened unexplored seas and lands.

Modern - Day Viking Bernt Balchen's autobiography, "Come North With Me," tells of a modern-day Viking who played a key role in some extraordinary feats of exploration.

Other non-fiction books are Stewart Holbrook's "Dreamers of the American Dream" and "An Introduction to Western Philosophy" by Russell Coleburn, which traces the main events of Western philosophy.

New historical novels are "The Cavalryman" by Harold Sinclair, dealing with the fight against the Sioux in the Dakotas in the Civil war period; "The Kingbreaker" by Elizabeth Linington, the struggle between Cromwell and Charles I; and "The Devil's Agent" by Hans Habe, a modern spy story.

Mystery stories are "Un-

Senior Girl Scouts Hold Kick-Off Supper Meeting

Menasha Red Cross To Elect Officers

Menasha — Officers of the Menasha chapter of the American Red Cross will be elected by the board of directors at 4:30 p.m. Thursday. The meeting will be held in Red Cross office in the post office building.

Fly Safety Flag

Neenah — Badger-Globe mill and Neenah Paper company division of Kimberly-Clark corporation are flying the green and white safety flag today indicating no lost-time accidents during September. Employees of the boiler plant are looking toward Oct. 19, hoping to complete seven straight years without a lost-time injury on that day.

Each troop named a representative and an alternate to attend a senior planning board session at the kick-off meeting.

Officers of the planning board are Gretchen Herrbold, representing Troop 127 and the sophomore class, chairman; Jane Button, from Troop 58 and the junior class, vice chairman; Katherine Talbot, freshman class, secretary. The adviser is Mrs. William Hanamann.

The board set Oct. 14 for the next all senior meeting at St. Thomas church. Mrs. Lester Seborna, chairman of service projects, will discuss them. Scouts may register for participation in the services, which include hospital aids, library aids and program aids.

At the Oct. 14 program senior scouts will review the summer program, trips and camping. Slides and talks also are scheduled.

Menasha PTA Has 86 Members

Menasha — Eighty-six people became members of the Menasha High and Junior High school Parent Teachers' association Tuesday evening at Menasha High school. Mrs. Joseph Parker, Mrs. Paul Eastwood and Mrs. Adam Haber are on the membership committee.

The group decided there will be no fund-raising projects this year. Membership dues will provide funds.

A program on "Long Range Planning for Menasha Public Schools" was presented by William Platt, chairman of the citizens' advisory committee for the junior high school. M. J. Gegan, superintendent of schools, and Robert Farrell, head of the school board.

O. J. Bethard, PTA president, reviewed PTA history. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Artt were named chairmen of the new safety and chaperon committee.

On Oct. 29 Menasha teachers will be guests when John P. Mann, Appleton superintendent of schools, will talk on the "Report of the Nelson Rockefeller Committee on Education."

Social Guild Plans Dinner

Neenah — District 3 of the social guild of St. Margaret Mary Catholic church has named Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman co-presidents and Mrs. Everett Thomsen, secretary.

The district will sponsor a smorgasbord dinner Oct. 12 at the school cafeteria. The officers will be assisted by Mrs. Peter Weinman and Mrs. Miles Baer.

Members of the Catholic Youth Organization at St. Margaret Mary church will sponsor a bazaar and smorgasbord Nov. 30. General chairmen of the annual event, which is open to the public, are Marilyn Versteegen and Jerry Moder.

Fun Night Held By TOPS Club

Y Wives Outline Year's Program

Neenah — The program for the year was outlined for Y Wives Tuesday evening at the YWCA.

On Oct. 1 the group will sponsor a guest card night. The committee will include Mrs. Trever Blake, Mrs. Robert Schilke, Mrs. Herman Adler, Mrs. E. A. Baldwin and Mrs. Edward Kehoe.

On Oct. 21 Carl Coonen, Neenah alderman, will speak on "Duties of an Alderman and Regulations and Laws of the Twin Cities."

Miss Aileen Rummel, director of the Visiting Nurse association, will address the organization Nov. 18. Her topic will be "The VNA and Our Community." Mrs. Michael Hanley will be in charge of arrangements for a Dec. 16 Christmas celebration.

"Wills and Legal Responsibilities" is the subject selected by Wallace Pearson, assistant district attorney of Winnebago county, who will speak Jan. 20.

On Feb. 17 Woodrow Wilson, eastern field director for the Wisconsin Association for Mental Health, will give an address entitled "Understanding Mental Illness."

Schedule Debate

The Neenah High school debate team will present the March 17 program, discussing "Comparative Education in the United States and Europe." On April 21 there will be a panel discussion, with Mrs. William Cerny acting as chairman.

The Y Wives will hold their final meeting May 19. Installation of officers will be held after a dinner.

Eggs Provide Food Value, Can be Varied

Oshkosh — Although they weigh about one-fourth less than large size eggs, small and medium-sized eggs are a good food buy as they offer just as much food value as the larger, more expensive variety, according to county home agent, Miss Lois Klusmeyer.

Good poached or fried on a breakfast plate, eggs also are tasty in salads and on cold-dramatized with frozen straw- or hard-boiled. For those who like their eggs disguised, custards can be varied by raisins, nutmeg, peaches, honey or chocolate chips. Plain custard can be berry sauce or sliced fresh peaches.

Nails Need Care to be An Asset

Neenah — As any well-groomed woman knows, beautiful hands are part of an attractive, integrated appearance. Begin the manicure with an emery board session, filing from the corners to the center.

Then soak nails in warm, sudsy water to soften cuticle. The next step is pushing the cuticle back gently with an orange stick and snipping any hangnails or rough cuticle with cuticle scissors.

Apply a base coat of polish and let it dry. Select the shade of polish you wish and apply one coat, two if more intense color is desired. Smooth off a hairline of polish at the end of each nail with a finger tip.

Finish the job with a clear over-coat polish, applying it to the end of the nail and on the underside if possible to help prevent chipping. Clean up smudges with cotton-wrapped orange stick dipped in remover.

Matching lipstick and nail polish not only looks smart but makes a person feel well-groomed and neat.

Set Meeting on Civil Defense for Homemakers

Oshkosh — Health training for civil defense will be discussed at 1:15 p.m. Thursday in the lounge room of the Winnebago County courthouse by health chairman and interested members of county homemaker clubs.

Civil defense is the emphasis for homemakers, 4-H members and agriculture this year.

The program, "The Importance of Civil Defense," will be presented by Allan Oakley, acting director of the southeast reception area. Mrs. Lucille Ruedinger, county nurse will discuss "Emergency Rations and Safe Water Supply." A Red Cross demonstration.

Traffic Club Votes by Mail On Directors

Pick Board Members From Truck Firms,
Railroads, Industry

Menasha — Results of a mail ballot on board members will be told Fox River Valley Traffic club members Tuesday at the Hob Nob club near Fond du Lac.

A new educational movie produced by the Great Northern railroad will be shown.

Nominated for the three director posts from industry are Salvatore Porto, Marathon division, Menasha; James Vander Heyden, Wisconsin Paper Group, Menasha; Carl Koletzke, Appleton Coated Paper company, Appleton; Howard Bradley, Detroit Rug company, Oshkosh; and Paul Haworth, Rueping Leather company, Fond du Lac.

Trucking company representatives nominated for three director posts are Francis Brocktrup, Olson Transportation company, Neenah; Carl Springborn, Springborn Cartage, Oshkosh; R. E. Luedtke, Northern Transportation company, Oshkosh; Walter Trow, Central Wisconsin Motor Transport company, Appleton; and Howard Quehl, Consolidated Freightways, Menasha.

Railroad Nominees

Three directors from the railroads will be chosen from W. J. Hetherington, Milwaukee road, Menasha; John Glaeser, Gulf, Mobile and Ohio, Oshkosh; Don Norris, Chicago and North Western, Appleton; Paul Schmidt, Union Pacific, Appleton; and F. E. Kurth, Chicago and North Western, Appleton.

Proposed for secretary are Frank Otis, Gilbert Paper company, Menasha, and Robert Hogan, Marathon division, Menasha. Treasurer nominee are Walter Hebblewhite, Morgan company, Oshkosh; and Ervin A. Hernb, Milwaukee road, Menasha.

Directors will meet later to name a president and four vice presidents. Installation will be at the annual dinner Nov. 18 at Oshkosh.

Irish '11' Plays Wrightstown

Game Features Weekend Card
In Little Nine

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE
W	L
Freedom	2	0 Omro
Reedsville	2	0 Denmark
Winnecoonne	2	1 Hortonville
Wrightstown	2	1 Shiocton

Thursday Night's Games:
Winnecoonne at Denmark.

Friday's Games:
Shiocton at Reedsville.
Wrightstown at Freedom.
Omro at Hortonville.

Having turned aside the bid of the Winnecoonne Wolves last weekend, Freedom High's football Irish have another tough test on their hands this Friday.

The Irish welcome Wrightstown, co-occupant of third place, and winner of two of its three 1950 starts. The Tigers have dumped Omro (14-7) and Hortonville (12-7) while losing to Winnecoonne (14-0).

Freedom, seeking its first solo league grid title in history after sharing the crown last year, allowed two touchdowns last week for the first time this season in dumping Winnecoonne, 18-12. The other triumphs were over Kiel (19-6) in a non-conference outing, Denmark (13-0) and Hortonville (13-0).

Winnecoonne will attempt to bounce back with a win at Denmark in a Thursday night game. Reedsville is favored to remain unbeaten with a win over winless visitor Shiocton. Omro tries to get back into contention with a triumph at Hortonville.

Omro Woman Injured As Car Hits Ditch

Oshkosh — Mrs. Paul Costello, Omro, was taken to Mercy hospital by a passing motorist after her car went off Highway 21 at 6:40 Tuesday morning. She told officers she was passing a car, lost control and skidded into the ditch.

High School Students See Science Exhibition

Menasha — A science demonstration was conducted during Menasha and Neenah high school assemblies Tuesday by the General Motors corporation. The 40-minute show dramatized science's key role in industrial progress under a free economy.

Couple Builds Chapel

Descanso, Calif. — A couple who built a home, seeking peace and quiet in this rural Southern California community, added a small chapel at one end. It is always unlocked for any passerby who may want to rest, meditate or pray.

Winnecoonne Legion To Discuss Baseball

Winnecoonne — Plans for the Junior Legion baseball program will be discussed by the Giles - Luce post at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the Legion clubhouse.

The baseball project, recently adopted by the post, is one phase of the proposed expansion of the village recreational program. Raymond Mueller is chairman of the board of directors. He also will manage the team.

Frosh Teams Face Second League Foes

Menasha — Menasha's freshman football squad will open its home schedule at 4 p.m. Thursday against Wilson Junior High school, Appleton, at Butte des Morts field. Neenah travels to Kaukauna the same afternoon in search of its second straight triumph.

The Twin City yearling squads opened their seasons with opposite success last week. Neenah tipped Roosevelt 6-0; Menasha lost to Kimberly, 19-13.

The Rockets moved the ball well against Roosevelt but could score only once, that time in the final period. Joe Beggs, Winn Zimmerman, Jim Hedlund and Dale Howes ran well.

Menasha got off to a shaky start at Kimberly and saw the Papermakers score the first two times they had the ball. Bob Opsahl and Ted Cook were the top Jay carriers. Last year, Neenah tripped

Ex-Mac Pitcher Captures Honor

Menasha — Former Menasha Mac hurler Bill Lutz was leading pitcher in the Milwaukee Industrial Baseball league, according to averages released today.

Lutz, who pitched for the Falk corporation team the last two years, appeared in 12 games and fashioned a 6-0 record. He hurled 72 innings, allowed 45 hits, fanned 90 and walked only 14.

The Manitowoc southpaw pitched for the Macs in 1955. His top effort as a Mac was a no-hitter against Weyauwega in the finals of the Clintonville semi-pro tournament. The win gave the Twin Cities a berth in the state meet at Milwaukee.

Christensen Hits Leading 690 Trio

Cracks Best 254 Game for Slam of City Loop Laurels

Menasha — Don Christensen missed a national honor series by 10 pins with his 690 count which was tops in the Neenah City Bowling league Tuesday night at Muench's alleys.

Christensen's big score included a 254 game, high for the night, plus a 235 line.

Jack Asmus fired a 640 series for runnerup honors. He had a 237 game. Frank Lopp now collected 638, Hal Ganz-el 230-638, "Nubs" Milliken 232-635 and Louis Schmidt 233-634.

Other 600-plus counts included Norm Lenz 244-632, Clarence Toeppler 619, Harry Peck 604, Earl Haase 603 and Dick Schnoor 601.

Series above 570 were rolled by Earl Ruddy 237-565, Jack Schroeder 562, Bob Gartzke 589, Harlan Moran 227-587, Florian Spang 234-587, Dan Kuehl 232-585, Jim Beisenstein 583, Don Rolph 582, Al Spang 233-582, Jerry Llewellyn 582, Herb Metzger 227-579, Lawrence Malouf 234-575, Don Schmetzer 24-572 and Milt Blohm 571.

Jitter's and Joe's and Schmidt Builders are deadlocked for first place with 10-2 records. Club Terrace is second in the 20-team league with a 9-3 slate.

Schmidt's, Club Terrace, Haase and Drews, Schabo and Son and Eagles swept their 3-game series.

Jays, Zephyrs Prepare for Weekend Tests

Both Clubs to be At Full Strength For League Foes

Menasha — Both the Menasha and St. Mary football squads expect to go into their important weekend encounters at full strength, their coaches reported Tuesday afternoon.

Menasha guns for its third straight Mid-Eastern conference triumph against a young but able Clintonville squad here Friday night. St. Mary makes its conference debut Sunday afternoon at Little Chute against unbeaten St. John.

Menasha Coach Carl Steffen said the Jays came out of Friday's win over Two Rivers without any serious ailments. He was pleased with the club's improved attack which netted three touchdowns. Against Shawano the previous week, the offense lacked consistency and could cross the goal line only once.

At the sixth street field, where St. Mary holds its drills, Coach Vince Ste Marie said the only question mark is veteran end, Joe Rechner, who was injured in the win over Wausau Newman. Rechner bumped his knee in the final quarter and had to be assisted from the field.

However, Ste Marie expects him to be ready. If he isn't Dave Resch, a junior transfer from Chilton, probably will get the starting nod.

President to Have Physical Checkup

Washington — President Eisenhower announced today he will go to Walter Reed Army hospital this weekend for his annual physical check-up.

The president told his news conference he was making the announcement in advance so that there would be no reports that he is suffering any new illness.

Later, Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will go to Walter Reed early Friday afternoon and remain overnight.

Neenah Dart Circuit Sets Practice Games

Neenah — The Recreation department's Municipal Dart league will open its season with a set of practice games at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Recreation building.

Eight teams have signed up for 1937-38 play. The circuit will play two rounds, closing the season in March. Per-conceded victory to Powell sons interested in joining the after one of the tightest pri-league can attend Thursday's mary contests in the state's history.

Titan Gridders Seek Fourth Straight Win

Travel to Stevens Point; Hosts Go Into League Contest With Two Victories, Tie

Oshkosh — Oshkosh State college bids for its fourth straight victory, its second in Wisconsin college conference play, when it meets Stevens Point on the latter's field at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Both teams take undefeated records into the midweek clash, although the Pointers' slate is marred by a tie with defending champion Platteville. Stevens Point has defeated Hamline and River Falls.

The Titans, victorious over Northland, Eau Claire and the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, have copied their first three games for the first time since 1935.

4-Game Chain In addition to the three triumphs, the Titans have a victory chain of four, since they blanked Eau Claire, 6-0, in their final game last year. In those four contests, the Oshkosh gridders have racked up 78 points while holding the opponents to six.

Depth has been one of the big factors in the club's success. Although injuries have kept several key men out of the lineup, there have been capable replacements from the reserves and a fine yearling crop to take over.

Freshmen Star In his place, George McArthur, freshman from Fond du Lac, or Tom Verkuilen, Appleton yearling, have been filling in.

Oshkosh got a boost last week when End Bruce Armstrong, 2-year letterman from Butte des Morts, became eligible. He had transferred to the University of Wisconsin but dropped from school to return to Oshkosh. His eligibility status was clarified Friday.

The Titans picked up added speed in the backfield with the return to form of Bob Dosch, fleet halfback from New Holstein. Dosch won the conference 220-yard dash title last spring and placed third in the 100. He was hampered by injuries early this season but showed no ill effects when he took a Marv Carlson pass and raced 70 yards in the 22-0 conquest of Milwaukee Saturday.

Good Pass Defense Oshkosh's pass defense is another factor contributing to the team's success. Neenah's Tom Malchow intercepted a pass and ran 31 yards for a touchdown last weekend and an interception by Ron Kunstman, Kimberly, set up another score.

Stevens Point's attack is paced by Ron Hoenisch, halfback from Wausau. Hoenisch spent his freshman year at Wisconsin, went into the service for several years and returned Stevens Point two seasons ago.

Hermesen Tops FVCC Scoring

Back's Two TDs In St. John Win Give Him Margin

Menasha — Scoring honors in the Fox Valley Catholic conference currently belong to Don Hermesen, Little Chute. St. John back, who scored twice in last weekend's win over St. Norbert.

None of the other six players who have broken into the scoring column have more than six points. Those with one touchdown are Tim Tousey and Andy Ebben, St. John. John Whitney and Dave Rhodes, St. Norbert; and Bill Schommer, Fond du Lac Springs. Ed Hammen, St. John, has one conversion. Tousey was last year's point leader.

Marquette Catholic and St. Mary scorers will have an opportunity to break into the point column next weekend when they play their first league tilts.

In two league games, the clubs have scored seven touchdowns, but have converted after only one of them.

WSUORA to Hold Annual Dinner

Menasha — The Wisconsin Stock Utility Outdoor Racing association will hold its annual dinner at 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 25, at Van Abel's in Hollandtown.

Club high point trophies will be presented after the dinner. Reservation deadline is Oct. 20.

The club will hold its final monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Oct. 8 at the Fond du Lac YMCA.

Lois Mattern's 193 Paces Victory Loop

Menasha — Lois Mattern bowled a 193 game and Mary John tallied a 190 effort for the leading totals in the Victory Women's Bowling league Tuesday night at Menasha Recreation alleys.

The Drucks Electric team is in first place with a 12-3 record. It has a 2-game edge over Pastyme. Recreation No. 1 and Independent TV, all of whom have 10-5 records.

Neenah — Saturday's Mid Eastern conference game between Neenah and Two Rivers at the Rocket field will get underway at 2:30 instead of 2 o'clock, according to Principal H. O. Borgen. The starting time was moved back to enable the fans to view the World Series game.

BOWLING LESSONS No Charge Any Afternoon Call 2-8991 LAKEROAD LANES

Hollenbeck's 256 Game Tops Neenah Wheel

Sorensen Cracks Peak 599 Series; Babbitts Hits 598

Neenah — Lew Hollenbeck powered a 156 game and Al Sorensen notched a 599 series in the Goodfellowship Bowling league Tuesday night at Lakeroad Lanes.

Al Babbitts narrowly missed high series honors with his 598 count, which included a 236 line. "Ace" Gutowski slapped a 595 triple.

Other leading totals included Harold Meyer 574, Clair Cracylany 571, Harry Christensen and Ed Gullickson 567, Viler Zilisch 564, Hollenbeck 560, Ralph Kiesow 559, "Doc" Davidson 558 and Bob Lampman 225.

Ed and Woody's leads the park with a 10-2 record. Hoenisch's, Berenger's, Teltz and Morton's won three games.

Bowls 528 Total Anne Rasmussen collected 528 series for the best effort in the Kitchen Dodgers Women's league Tuesday afternoon at Lakeroad. Red Dot Queens hold first place with an 8-1 record. They lead three runnersup by three games.

Carol Nygren fired a 217 game in the Lakeroad Ladies Handicap circuit Tuesday night.

Other high singles included Judy Rickert's 204 and a 201 by June Trumbel. Neenah Hardware, with 11 wins in 12 games, leads the team standings. McClone's is two games out with 9-3, Virginia Ebel had a game of all spares. She finished with 168.

John Block's 228 game and 594 series were the top efforts in the Beer Mixed Couples league at Lakeroad Saturday. Heileman's team is in first place with six straight wins.

Chairman Says

Single Drive Designed for Convenience of Givers

Chairman

Neenah — The Twin Cities Community Chest was organized for the convenience of Neenah and Menasha citizens.

It was organized to raise in one drive the money needed by the member agencies.

Without country, its families, schools and churches requires that the Community Chest develop along the lines of reverence, discipline and self-respect. Every dollar invested in strengthening our 10 cost of conducting one drive is substantially less than for 10 separate drives.

The Chest, itself, does not need money except for minimum administrative expenses. The money is needed to the Red Feather work of the Red Feather agencies which provide a multitude of services.

Funds are allocated to the various agencies according to the services provided. Each agency is thoroughly reviewed by the Chest's budget committee, with particular emphasis on past accomplishments and future objectives. Final allocations are based on approved budgets, which include only those operating expenses necessary to carry out the agency programs.

Bob Hogan Clubs Peak 625 Set in Industrial Play

Menasha — Bob Hogan joined a 625 series and Ron Kuhnke had a 235 game to split laurels in the Twin City Men's Industrial Bowling league Tuesday night at M.M.-Town.

Hogan was above 200 in all of his games, with a high of 221. Kuhnke had a 595 series. The only other trios above 550 were 562 to Florian Spang and a 557 count by Merle Wichman.

Marathon Canal street plant, Hardwood Products and Marathon Main Office are deadlocked for first place with 10-2 records.

Flash Floods Take 25 Lives

Paris — Flash floods took the lives of at least 25 persons in south central France last night, the government reported. Hundreds of homes were reported under as much as six feet of water.

Torrential rains sent rivers near Ales and Nimes flowing over their banks, trapping motorists on nearby roads. Ales and Nimes are ancient Roman townships in the central mountains.

Most of the victims drowned in their cars or perished as the vehicles were swept away.

Interior Minister Smile Pelletier will fly to the flood area to plan relief measures. Reports reaching Paris said landslides had interrupted rail service between Paris and Nimes. Three bridges were reported down, telephone lines cut and highways submerged.

The flood waters started receding after the rains stopped today.

Over 4,500 Acres of Public Land Listed in Winnebago County

Oshkosh — Nearly 5 million acres of public land in Wisconsin was thrown open to hunters today with the opening of the gun season for some species of game. Of that total, Winnebago county has 4,535 acres in five areas.

The Bay boom area, four miles west of Winchester, is the largest with 2,286 acres. Rush Lake, three miles west of Pickett, is next with 1,293 acres.

Other areas include the Delton marsh, 854 acres, 11 miles west of Zittau; Deppe marsh, 100 acres, nine miles northwest of Omro; and the Rush Lake right-of-way, two acres, three miles south of Waukau.

Red Cross Sets Annual Session

Neenah — Five new directors will be elected and committee reports presented when the Neenah chapter of the American Red Cross holds its annual meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Red Cross rooms, 111 E. Wisconsin avenue.

Awards Given to Troop 54 Scouts

Neenah — Twelve members of Boy Scout Troop 54, St. Paul English Lutheran church, received awards during a court of honor at which Richard Gear and David Fritsch received eagle badges.

William Shockley and Foss Hooper received life awards; Ronald Peterson, star badge; and James Casperson, Hooper, Gary Kramer, Robert Pederson, Shockley, Michael Belling and Peterson got merit badges.

Bruce Martin and Charles Lornson received second class ranking and Thomas Lagelais and Kramer first class ratings. Accepted into the troop were William Burns and Jerry Gear.

Boy scouts who joined the Air Scouts were Hooper, Shockley, Kramer and Lornson. Richard Thorpe received the Air Scout's quartermaster ranking.

142nd Home Permit

Neenah — The city's 142nd new home permit of 1958 was issued Tuesday by Donald Gehrt who will build a $10,000 frame dwelling at 1042 Oak street. A year ago 91 permits had been issued by Sept. 30.

Warning Issued on Removing Lights on City Safety Island

Menasha — A warning about removing bulbs from the three lights on a safety island at the intersection of Manitowoc and Harding could lead to a similar tragedy, they said.

near the new Red Owl store, was issued Tuesday by Menasha police.

Police noted a fatal accident in Calumet county recently was blamed on removal of stop signs. Tampering with the safety island lights, they said.

Lawrence Says: Congress May Seek to Limit Court Powers

Integration Decision Will Start Debate On High Tribunal

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — The supreme court, by its action this week, may have made inevitable the passage by congress eventually of some type of legislation limiting the powers of the high court.

The constitution itself gives congress the right to Lawrence make limitations on the supreme court's authority over certain kinds of cases. The fight will be a long one.

For, irrespective of the merits of the segregation-integration controversy itself, lawyers everywhere will be concerned, because overnight the supreme court has demolished some important pillars in the existing system of judicial procedure.

The supreme court not only has asserted the right at any time to reverse "settled law" but claims the right to say years afterwards that it rendered a decision containing language which is not to be found in the text of the first opinion.

Takes Right

This departure from established practice means the supreme court has taken unto itself the right not merely to interpret its previous decisions but to amend them at any time by adding language that was not in the original. Congress will doubtless institute an inquiry of its own into this strange development.

The court, of course, has a perfect right to say now what it thinks the 1954 decision meant or could mean. But can the court put new words into the text of four years ago and claim that the language was actually there in the first place?

What legal reasoning, moreover, prompted the supreme court to denounce "evasive schemes for segregation" and decide a case in that category—now pending in a lower court—even before this case is argued before the justices of the high court itself? The supreme court now has issued through that device a blanket warning that "state support of segregated schools through any arrangement, management, funds, or property cannot be squared with the fourteenth amendment's command that no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction equal protection of the laws."

This is in the nature of an advisory opinion about future cases—something that the supreme court of the United States has never rendered since the Dred Scott case 100 years ago. At that time the court first decided the only question at issue — that the lower court had no jurisdiction over the case itself—and then proceeded to rule on broad constitutional matters related to slavery as a whole. It was a deviation from established practice that aroused nationwide resentment among lawyers.

Judicial Chaos

To condone this week's repetition of the precedent is to invite judicial chaos. For at any moment the department of justice now can get an injunction from a lower court closing any private school—religious or non-denominational—where there is segregation and claim supreme court backing for the action. It can be asserted that segregation in any institution being given "state support" has been banned as unconstitutional. Certainly real-estate tax exemptions for private-school buildings, the exemption from taxation of the income received by such private schools, and government payment of bus transportation for pupils attending parochial schools are each a means of "state support." Can any private school hereafter be segregated and stay within "the law of the land?"

Actress Vera Miles, Who thinks women should dress like women and leave male attire to men, poses on a Hollywood set with her husband, actor Gordon Scott, and their year-old son, Michael. She suggests beards-for-men could offset the trend of women's invasion in the male realm. Scott, once the movie Tarzan of that jungle series, says he grew his beard while seeking western roles and now his wife insists he keep it.

Men Should Take To Beards Again, Declares Actress

Hollywood—(AP)—Supposing the husbands of America would sit down stubble-chinned to the breakfast table and say to their wives: "I don't care what you say, I'm going to grow a beard!"

The wives might scream, along with the razor and electric shaver makers. But actress Vera Miles declares it would be a great thing for the country. Her reasoning: It would help make the male the dominant sex again.

"Women have taken everything from the male province—short hair, long pants, all kinds of things," she said. "Here at least is something that can be entirely the men's."

Vera, a bright actress who has blasted the theory that beauty contestants can't become movie stars (she was a Miss America runner-up), believes that the appearance and functions of the two sexes should be differentiated.

"Beards could offset this unhappy trend," she reasoned. "What could be more masculine? Even in the days when the males wore frilly shirts and lacy cuffs with handkerchiefs stuck in them the men were masculine. Why? Because they wore beards."

Garry Moore Show Opens With Promise

Amusing Hour With Surprise, Unusual Giving Real Variety

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York — (AP)—Garry Moore launched a new weekly show on CBS-TV Tuesday night that promises to add a new dimension to that tired old species of television entertainment called the variety program.

It is amusing, imaginative, distinctive.

The introductory number inquired, "How do you build a show?" Moore provided the answer as the hour progressed.

Star Ingredients

You take comedienne Marion Lorne as a regular member of the cast. Then add a guest like Janis Paige teaming with Moore in a song sketch about moving to the country. And throw in a guest like Red Skelton hurling some pleasant insults and a singer like Gordon McRae singing music as it was written.

The implausible and surprising are essential to the new Moore recipe—as for example, tossing most of the cast thoroughly in walrus blankets held by residents of the Aleutian Islands.

If the description sounds confused, take a look yourself next Tuesday night and see if you could describe the new Garry Moore show as anything but loads of fun.

Critics Differ on Fisher Premiere

Hollywood—(AP)—Eddie Fisher, whose troubles even reunited Martin and Lewis, said in the wee hours today: "I guess I'll stay in show business after all."

The crooner made his season's TV debut last night over NBC with a show that most critics in the studio audience thought one of his best, according to James Bacon, critic and motion picture writer.

'Porgy and Bess' Hits Theaters Late in '59

Big Shows Ahead: 'Count of Monte Cristo,' 'Gift of the Magi,' All-Star Jazz Musicians

BY JINGO

Samuel Goldwyn's version of "Porgy and Bess" is expected to be released to theaters late next year. It will be based on the stage version with music by George Gershwin, book by Du Bose Heyward and lyrics by Dorothy Heyward and Ira Gershwin. Heading the cast are Sidney Poitier, Dorothy Dandridge, Sammy Davis, Jr., and Pearl Bailey.

"Pursuit," new 1-hour dramatic series originally scheduled to premiere on WBAY-TV Oct. 15, has been moved back to Oct. 22 to permit rebroadcast of "Dead of Noon," which has Richard Boone as John Wesley Hardin. Here's the lineup for an all-star jazz show Nov. 10 on WBAY-TV: Lionel Hampton, Gene Krupa, Jane Morgan, Bob Crosby and his Bobcats, Hoagy Carmichael, Chico Hamilton and his Quintet, Roy Eldridge, Louis Armstrong and his All-Stars, Anita O'Day and Les Brown and His Band of Renown.

The cast for a musical version of O. Henry's "Gift of the Magi" on WBAY-TV on Dec. 9: Gordon MacRae, Howard St. John of Broadway's "Lil Abner," Eini Osterwald of Broadway's "Look Homeward, Angel" and Sally Ann Howe, star of Broadway's "My Fair Lady." Noel Willman, British star, makes his American debut in the title role of "The Count of Monte Cristo," a "Show of the Month" tale for Oct. 28.

WTMJ-TV starts a series of "Flash Gordon" episodes at 4 p.m. Friday. Buster Crabbe stars. Edgar Bergen is Spring Byington's guest for the return of her "December Bride" program at 7 p.m. Thursday. The on WBAY-TV program assembled under his name was scarcely worthy of close attention.

Pat Boone start their seventh TV season season at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Ed Wynn bowed in last week with a story short on punch, but still good enough to provide him an opportunity to put himself across. It's on at 7 p.m. Thursdays on NBC-TV channels. "Yancy Dugger," an action-adventure series about New Orleans in the post Civil war period and starring Jock Mahoney, bows at 7:30 p.m. Thursday on WBAY-TV. "This Is Your Life" at 9 tonight gives Roy Campanella the treatment. "Rough Riders," another new western starring Kent Taylor, bucks the returning Ernie Ford at 8:30 p.m. Thursday. Both are pitted against "Playhouse 90."

"My Father, the Fool," about a crusading Puerto Rican lawyer in New York, will star Ed Wallach and J. Carroll Nash when it's brought to CBS-TV Oct. 20 by "Desilu Playhouse." Jack Carson and Red Taylor are stars of "The Long March," story of conflicts between marine regulars and reserves in WWII, the Oct. 16 "Playhouse 90" offering. Jacqueline McKenzie and Sydney Chaplin will support Recalled Russell in CBS-TV's special 2-hour showing of the musical comedy "Wonderful Town" on Nov. 30. And then there's Bing Crosby tonight at 8:30 on WFRV-TV, with Patti Page, Dean Martin and Mahalia Jackson.

Menasha — Unbeaten but once-tied Clintonville plays at 'undefeated' Menasha Friday night in the feature game on this weekend's Mid-Eastern conference football menu.

Winless teams are matched against contenders in all of the other three tilts. Kaukauna plays at New London and Kimberly entertains Shawano Friday evening. Neenah will entertain Two Rivers Saturday afternoon.

The Menasha - Clintonville game could develop into one of the top matches of the season. Since losing their opener to Appleton, the Bluejays have come along to defeat Shawano and Two Rivers, blanking both of them.

Deadlock Rockets
Clintonville, a squad comprised mainly of sophomores and juniors, produced a big surprise when it held Neenah to a 7-7 deadlock, halting the Rockets' 19-game winning string.

Both clubs have good running attacks. Menasha is paced by Tom Stepanski and Dave Robinson while Keith Lambie and Archie Gough are the big trucker threats. Stepanski scored twice as the Jays took a 19-0 win last year.

Neenah, which hasn't been beaten though twice-tied in 22 games, is expected to start a new victory skein at the expense of Two Rivers. The Raiders haven't scored in three games and they've allowed each of their foes three touchdowns.

Wins Series Ticket, Then Gives It Away

Milwaukee — (U) — Scalpers note: One Milwaukee man won a World Series ticket and then gave it away.

William G. Conrad, head of the trust accounting department at a local bank was one of eight winners in a drawing for World Series tickets, among bank employees.

After flourishing his prize ticket, Conrad gave it to Oliver E. Sindorf, an auditor at the bank.

Bays Eye 1st Win Over World Champ Since '47 Campaign

Could Write History by Downing Detroit Sunday

BY ART DALEY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Green Bay — Lest we forget: The Detroit Lions are world professional football champions!

And does that give you goose flesh? . . . Or the hee-bee-jeebies?

Playing the world champions has been an unhappy experience down through the post war years for the Bays.

In fact, the Packers haven't beaten a world champion since 1947 when they led off the campaign with a 29-20 triumph over the Chicago Bears, 1946 world champs.

The Packers can write a bit of history by whipping the Lions at City stadium Sunday.

Losses 11 Times

Since that triumph over the Bears, Green Bay has lost 11 games to world champions in 10 seasons, despite the fact that the Packers didn't play the champs in three of those seasons.

Remember last year when the world champion New York Giants invaded the stadium? The 1956 bests beat Green Bay, 37-23. Here's what happened in the previous campaigns — until '47:

1956 — lost to Cleveland (1955 champ). 24-7; 1955 — 1958 Terrors as they prepare to do battle with rugged Green Bay East Friday night. "If we improve as much as we did last year we'll give East a ball game," Dillon told the Appleton Quarterback club Tuesday night at the Lawrence college union.

The AHS aggregation that dumped Sheboygan North, 21-7, last Saturday at Whiting field bore small resemblance to the outfit which was rocked, 13-0, by underdog Fond du Lac the week before.

Neenah Beats AHS Harriers

Debuts With 23-32 Win; Loker First In Individual Duel

The Neenah High school cross country team opened its first season successfully Tuesday afternoon, defeating the Appleton High harriers, 23-32, at Appleton's Reid Municipal Golf course.

The loss was the second in two meets for the Terrors, who are reviving cross country this season after a 25-year lapse. AHS' next meet will be held here at 4:30 Thursday afternoon, against New London.

Appleton's Don Loker shaded Neenah's Jim Quade by 14 seconds in an exciting race for first place Tuesday. Loker came home in 10:31. Each school had five runners in the first 10. Third was Neenah's Paul Poellinger, in 11:18.

The order of finish:
1. Loker (A).
2. Quade (N).
3. Poellinger (N).
4. Tom Drews (N).
5. Uwe Strehmel (A).
6. Jerry Schaefer (N).
7. Jerry Schmidt (A).
8. Ralph Frank (N).
9. Mory Cox (A).
10. John Wiley (A).

The Packers and Lions both opposed tough defensive units last Sunday, Green Bay losing to the Bears, 34-20, and the Lions losing to Baltimore, 28-15. So a comparison of team statistics might make sense.

The Packers made 12 first downs and allowed 16; Detroit 12 and 26; Green Bay made 123 yards rushing and allowed 146; Detroit 73 and 106; Green Bay made 139 yards passing and gave up 165; Detroit 109 and 250; Green Bay completed 11 passes in 24 attempts; the Bears 9 for 15; the Lions 12 for 30; and the Colts 23 for 43.

Injured to Return
The Lions held three players out of the Baltimore game — veterans Jack Christiansen and Gene Cronin and rookie Dan Lewis, the University of Wisconsin product. All three will be ready for the Packer game.

Tuesday's loosening - up practice indicated that all 35 Packers are in good working order. . . . McLean said that "everybody will be ready for Detroit . . . even Parilli."

Everybody includes of course, Al Carmichael and Tom Bettis who missed the Bear game. Babe Parilli sustained rib injuries Sunday.

The Packers will conduct their practices this week at the field east of the stadium. Last week several workouts were conducted in the secrecy of Bluejay park.

Precedent Is Against Braves In '58 Series

Stengel Blames 1957 Loss On Bad Advice

By The Associated Press

Precedent was against the Milwaukee Braves in the 1958 World Series, which opened today.

No National league champion has been able to win two October classics in succession, since the New York Giants whipped Miller Huggins' Yankees in 1921 and 1922.

Since then the Yankees have won 17 world championships in 21 tries. They bowed to the Braves, however, in the last one, in seven games.

'A Bum Steer'
Yankee manager Casey Stengel, still smarting from that loss, blamed it on some bum advice he had received from National league friends.

He vowed this time to follow his own judgment. "Them fellers sure gave me a bum steer," he said Tuesday night. "They told me (Eddie) Mathews couldn't field, and that he was just a fair runner. They said (Lew) Burdette couldn't beat us. Well, Oakland, Calif. — Johnny Gonsales, 136, Oakland, Calif. outpointed Cisco Andrade, 135, Compton, Calif., 10.

Milwaukee Is Calm

Modest Multitude Fetes NL Champions

BY DION HENDERSON

Milwaukee — (U) — The athletic-looking man in the sport jacket said in an injured tone, "Wadda they mean, already, Milwaukee ain't living it up over the World Series?"

"I don't understand it," said the lady across the table from him. "Two spades."

"Twas the night before the World Series opener in Milwaukee, but the city which last year sent its thousands foaming joyously from wall to wall down Wisconsin avenue was as calm as a schooner of beer left over from Uncle Herman's birthday party last Friday.

Walk Lonesomely

There was a hint of things to come earlier, when the once-hated Yankees arrived in town. A year ago, the faithful shrieked in joyous rage and broke out their "Welcome to Bushville" banners at the drop of a slighting word. At the mention of Yankees, Milwaukee reacted like an overlooked stronghold of the Confederacy.

Then Casey Stengel and his charges came to town to open the 1958 contest. They walked lonesomely down the red carpet, while about 150 spectators watched. Within the memory of human beings still attending elementary school, more people than that have turned out to watch Warren Spahn get his shoes shined.

Of course, the great events of the baseball year haven't gone entirely unnoticed. Attendance at the ballyard in the Menomonee valley dropped below 2 million, to be sure, but it still led both major leagues.

And, on Sunday, Sept. 21, a youthful throng was observed in the immediate downtown area at about the time the Braves clinched their second straight National league pennant at Cincinnati. But just how many of the celebrators were left over from the previous night, when Marquette university's football team won its first game in 20 starts, never was determined.

Anyway, Tuesday afternoon, the city scheduled its official celebration of the pennant winning, complete with parade, speeches and glimpes of the heroes. A modest multitude turned out in the announced Eisenhower's decision but provided no elaboration.

Dillon Lauds AHS, Respects East '11'

Tells QB Club Terrors Must Improve Still More Before Friday

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Good football coaches are seldom satisfied. It is their nature.

Thus, it is that Appleton High school Mentor Ade Dillon seeks improvement from his 1958 Terrors as they prepare to do battle with rugged Green Bay East Friday night.

"If we improve as much as we did last year we'll give East a ball game," Dillon told the Appleton Quarterback club Tuesday night at the Lawrence college union.

Willie Pastrano Loses on TKO

Cut Over Eye Stops Bout With London

Only last Sept. 14, Eddie Machen, unbeaten and the No. 2 contender from Redding, Calif., was flattened in the first round by European champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Next to visit London will be Zora Foley, Uncle Sam's No. 1 contender from Chandler, Ariz. He fights Henry Cooper Oct. 14.

Steiner Runs With Just a Slight Limp

NBA Suggests Johansson Meet Folley

Selects Swedish Heavyweight Top Fighter of Month

Milwaukee —(U)— The National Boxing association today suggested a bout between Ingemar Johansson of Sweden and Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., to pick a "rightful and undisputed challenger" for the world heavyweight title.

Johansson, who recently knocked out another leading heavyweight contender, Eddie Machen, in one round, was proclaimed by the NBA as the No. 2 challenger behind Folley for Floyd Patterson's crown.

The unbeaten Swedish puncher, rated sixth last month, also was designated as the NBA's fighter-of-the-month.

New leading contenders were picked by the NBA in two divisions as a result of upsets in September.

Ranked No. 1

Vince Martinez was ranked as the new No. 1 welterweight behind champion Virgil Akins as the result of Gasper Ortega's surprising defeat at the hands of lightweight Don Jordan. Kenny Lane was installed as No. 1 contender for Joe Brown's lightweight title after Dullio Lol of Italy was held to a 15-round draw by Mario Vecchiato, a virtual unknown.

The NBA tabbed the following young boxers as outstanding prospects in the respective divisions: Billy Hester, 175, San Diego, Calif.; Stephen Redl, 147, Passaic, N. J.; Len Matthews, 135, Philadelphia; Guy Sumlin, 147, Mobile, Ala.; George Chuvalo, Heavyweight, Canada; Ernest Terrell, heavyweight, Chicago; and Gerald Grey, 147, Jamaica.

Oklahoma, Army 1-2 In Offense

Michigan State 3rd According to NCAA Statistics

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma and Army ranked 1-2 today in total offense according to National Collegiate Athletic bureau statistics.

The Sooners, No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, swamped West Virginia, 47-14, last Saturday, running up 559 yards overall in the process.

The Cadets, with the "bazooka offense," humbled South Carolina, 46-8, with 529 yards.

Third in overall offense is Michigan State, with 502 yards in its only game, a 32-12 victory over California. College of the Pacific is fourth with 458 yards average in two games, while Washington State has averaged 419 yards in its first two games.

COP Leads

COP leads all colleges in rushing with a 373-yards per game average, with Purdue second with 354. Army is third with 344, Brigham Young fourth with 339.5 and Northwestern fifth with 336.

The Sooners top the forward passing offense with 264 yards, while Bobby Newman has Washington State second with his passing for a 258.5 yards per game average.

Washington Tigers Tip Lincoln Wildcats, 7-0

Washington Tigers (1-1) defeated the Lincoln Wildcats (0-2) 7-0, in the Appleton Recreation department sixth grade touch football league over the weekend. The TD play was a 62-yard pass play from George Baer to Neil Weber. The Morgan Packers (0-1) and the St. Therese

Area Bowling Hilda Defferding Rolls 533 Series

Hilda Defferding tumbled the most ample threesome, a 533, when the Women's league at Twelve Corners bowled earlier in the week.

Lorna Pekarske shot a 191. Fernal's (11-1) leads the loop. Mrs. Pekarske blasted a 528 to pace the Dairy Couples loop. The Holsteins and Short-horns (5-1) top the wheel.

Des Schade Hits 605 Set

Al Gresi Thumps 252 Singleton in Cigaret Circuit

'Des' Schade tumbled a 605 series to do the honors in the Cigaret Couples league at Hahn's over the weekend.

One of his games for the Raleighs was a 225.

Wally Moore's 557 topped the Brotherhood wheel at Hahn's for the co-leading Ace Floor team (9-3) which shares first with Hueseman's.

A 550 by John Dietz for Appleton Appliance topped the KC National circuit. Don Liebman rolled a 225 solo for El-lenbackers.

Locklin Key Figure in Millers' Rise

Appleton's "Stu" Locklin has been a key figure in the sensational rise of the Minneapolis Millers to the Little World Series championship.

The Millers disposed of second place Wichita, four games to two in the American association playoff semi-finals, swept past Denver, 4-0, in the playoff finals.

Against Montreal in the Little World Series the Millers Monday night completed a 4-game sweep.

The left-handed-hitting Locklin went 6-for-10 against Denver and 8-for-19 against Wichita for an average of .483.

Lefty' Recalls Thrill World Series Tension Is on Different Level, Says Gomez

BY TED SMITH

Milwaukee —(U)— A World Series game is different. The strategy may be the same, the baseball may look like that played during the regular season, but the tension is on a different level altogether.

The authority for this opinion is Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, one of baseball's greatest pitchers. He is the only man to have won six World Series games without any losses.

Greatest Thrill

"The Series gave me the greatest thrill I ever got out of baseball," he said. "I was just as nervous in my last game as I was in my first."

Pitching for the New York Yankees Sept. 29, 1932, he beat the Chicago Cubs, 5-2, with Lon Warneke on the mound. Gomez wound up his major league career with the Braves, then in Boston.

Now a salesman for a sporting goods company, he is trim but looks more like a professor than a former big leaguer.

Waupaca at Wausau
Wausau at Wausau

Defending champion Waupaca puts its 16-game Central Wisconsin conference winning streak on the line Friday night as host to undefeated Bundel.

The game at Waupaca tops the second round of CW play and looms as one of the biggest of the season. In other pairings, first-week winner Wausau travels to Wittenberg, and Marion tackles Manawa on the Wolves' field.

3 Straight Titles

Coach LeRoy Haberkorn's Comets, who have won three straight titles and eight in the last 12 years, will be facing one of their stiffest tests of the season.

The Rush Nile-coached Bruins have three wins (16-0 over Wittenberg, 7-0 over Lena and 13-0 over Luxemburg) and one tie (6-6 with Pulaski) on their record. They have placed first once and second twice in their six football years in the league.

After losing, 12-6, to Antigo in a non-loop opener, Waupaca has won consecutively over Nekoosa (7-6), Kohler (20-13) and Manawa (27-0).

In both the '55 and '56 seasons, the Comets' victories over Bundel proved to be the title-clinchers as the two rivals finished 1-2. Their meeting conceivably could decide the championship for the third time in four seasons.

The Comets have not lost a conference game since 1954.

Low Burdette Seeks to Break Ruth's All-Time Series Record

BY FRANK ECK
AP News-Calendar Sports Editor

A deal the New York Yankees made late in 1951 to insure the American league pennant figures to come back and haunt them this World Series. By name he is Low Burdette, the sinker ball specialist who has withstood all charges of tossing spitballs.

On Aug. 29, 1951, the Yankees sent Burdette and $50,000 to the Boston Braves for Johnny Sain. Boston writers were so bitter about the deal they

1911 A's-Giants Marathon Ranks as Longest World Series

BY JACK HAND

Milwaukee —(U)— Come cold, rain or high water, the 1958 World Series will have a tough time topping the 1911 marathon that ran from Oct. 14 to Oct. 26.

The current series between the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees may have to struggle with chilly winds, topcoats and long underwear but the boys should be out of the trenches in time to enjoy the last half of the football season.

Neighborhood Duel

Back in 1911, the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants played the longest series ever. For a while one week they played pin, chie in a Philadelphia hotel lobby watching the rain stream down the front windows. After the third game it rained exactly a week before they could resume. The boys finally crawled home in time for the rabbit season.

Spahn Makes Apology to Casey Stengel

Milwaukee —(U)— Southpaw Warren Spahn, starting Milwaukee pitcher in today's opening game of the World Series, insists he never used the term "a clown" to describe Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Yankees.

Spahn, in an interview Monday, said Stengel once observed that he never would be a good pitcher. Stengel managed Spahn when they were with the Boston Braves in 1942.

Asked to describe Casey as manager with the Braves 16 years ago, Spahn was quoted as saying: "He was nothing but a clown."

Disturbed by the published quotation Tuesday, Warren said, "I was misunderstood. What I actually said was that Casey, in those days, was always clowning around."

He located Stengel and apologized personally.

Stengel readily accepted the apology and told Spahn he regarded him as one of the finest gentlemen in baseball as well as one of the finest pitchers.

Hemus to Put Musial Back in the Outfield

St. Louis —(U)— Solly Hemus, new manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has announced he's going to put Stan Musial back in the outfield.

Hemus plans to put Joe Cunningham in the first sack spot.

Musial took the move in stride. "I don't get excited about such things," he said.

Berra Has Earned $57,862.34 Playing in Nine World Series

BY FRANK ECK
AP News-Calendar Sports Editor

No wonder "Yogi" Berra wears a perpetual smile around this time of year. The catcher for the New York Yankees has taken down $57,862.34 for playing in nine World series with the American league champions.

Yankee rightfielder Hank Bauer is another who has profited handsomely from the fall classic. In eight series, Bauer has drawn $52,032.31.

In the '56 series, Bauer can stretch a record which may never be matched. In the last two World Series Bauer has hit safely in all 14 games.

But Berra is the big man in the series statistics. He has taken part in a record 54 series games, and this year ties

The Rockets went into the Trucker game without full-back Dick Wilson and half-backs Gary Ellis, Jim Hensen and Jon Laffin. Wilson's out for the year and Hensen isn't expected to play against the Raiders. The status of Laffin, Ellis and Millar is doubtful.

Neenah turned in one of its best efforts of an unbeaten season in toppling Two Rivers 41-0 last year.

Kaukauna is highly favored to chalk up its third straight league verdict at the expense of New London. Since dropping a 1-point to Sheboygan North, the Ghosts have ripped Shawano and Two Rivers, holding both scoreless.

Auburn's Smith 1st AP Lineman Of the Week

By The Associated Press

It's World Series time and also the time of year to start picking the "Lineman of the Week."

Tennessee failed to make a first down against Auburn last Saturday. For his part in helping to bring this about Zeke Smith, Auburn guard, today was named the first "Lineman of the Week" for the 1958 football season.

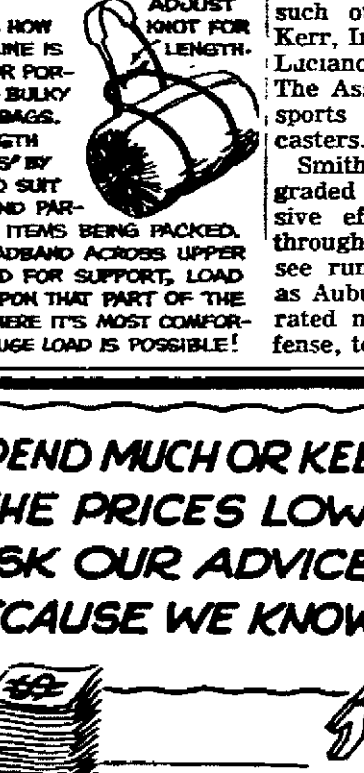

The 210-pound junior topped such other linemen as Bill Kerr, Indiana guard, and Ron Luciano, Syracuse tackle, in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Smith, who stands 6-2, was graded 98 per cent on defensive efficiency. He broke through and spilled Tennessee runners time and again as Auburn won, 13-0. He was rated near the top on offense, too.

Leg Injuries Hamper Two Illinois Gridders

By the Associated Press
Illinois — Leg injuries to fullback Jack Delveaux and Bob Hickey added to Illinois' woes. The two Chicagoans both are question marks for Saturday's encounter against Duke. Delveaux was replaced by Bill Brown of Mendota and quarterback John Easterbrook of Champaign has taken over for Hickey.

Northwestern — The Wildcat look for breaks to decide it. Naturally, I hope the breaks fall our way."

Cats worked on pass offense and pass defense. Northwestern looked a bit weak on pass defense against Washington State in the last quarter when the Cougars scored 22 points. Fullback Mark Johnston fully recovered from a back injury, worked out with the first team.

Iowa — Halfbacks Bob Jeter and Mendota's Ray Jauch broke through for good gains and quarterback Randy Duncan was sharp with his passing in a workout against the reserves. The lines operated against offense and defense patterns expected to be used by the Air Force.

Ohio State — The Buckeyes worked on defense until it was too dark to see a football. Quarterback Frank Krenblas put on a sweat shirt and jogged around the field but will not play against Washington because of a shoulder injury.

Michigan — Fullback John Herrnstain has regained the brilliance he showed as a sophomore. A leg injury bothered him last year but he appears to be completely recovered and the Wolverines are banking on him in hopes of upsetting Michigan State.

Purdue — With senior quarterback Bob Spoo of Chicago ailing because of bruised ribs, Ross Fichtner took over the No. 1 team. The squad went through a long scrimmage on defense and because of a wet field went indoors to work on passing.

Notre Dame — Tackle Frank Geremia and end Bob Wetoska were withheld from contact work because of injuries but both will be ready to go today. Rain limited the Irish to a light indoor drill where they drilled on tackling and blocking.

Board Turns Down Request

$103,000 Additional Funds Sought for State College Use
Madison — The state emergency board Monday rejected a request for an additional $103,000 for the state college system.

The amounts requested by the board of state college regents included $63,000 for hiring 15 more faculty members and $10,000 for more student assistants.

The board said regents, in effect, were asking the board to overturn a 1957 legislative decision by restoring to the state college system budget items cut by the lawmakers last year.

Takes Back Funds
In another decision Monday, the emergency board took the unusual action of taking back funds previously allocated.

The board took back $80,000, which the state department of public welfare had been given for boarding home care and institutional supplies. The board also took back $45,000 from the state board of health. The funds were withdrawn because of an increase in federal aid funds for the same purposes.

In another action, the board authorized the state agriculture department to transfer $50,000 from the brucellosis indemnity account to a similar fund for livestock tuberculosis.

It also authorized the veterans affairs department to transfer $1 million from its rehabilitation account to the veterans' housing loan fund.

Pope Fatigued, But Not Ill
Castel Gandolfo, Italy — Pope Pius XII is described as fatigued, not ill, after one of the busiest months of his 19-year reign.

Vatican circles, acknowledging the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic church was tired, denied today rumors he was fighting a new attack of hiccups. It was four years ago that he was seriously ill with hiccups.

The pope had a slight indisposition last week but has fully recovered, a Vatican source said. The indisposition was not further described.

The pontiff spent September at his summer residence here. He was supposed to be resting, but he held almost daily audiences and delivered many speeches.

His Experience Might Help in New Position
Los Angeles — Lomile Puckett made news last month when she took up arms in a fruitless attempt to keep the state division of highways from taking her house to clear a path for a new freeway.

Helping the stout-hearted widow was her son Ross. Ross' new job made news of a more quiet sort yesterday. He's working for the state division of highways. His assignment: to head up a new eviction section.

More than 20 planes joined surface craft in the 24-hour mission.

U. S. Urged to Plan Equator Space Bases

Informal Surveys Of Potential Sites Have Been Made

BY VERN HAUGLAND
Dallas — Some scientists are urging that the U.S. establish facilities along the equator soon for launching manned space craft.

Informal surveys of potential sites have been made. They include Christmas island in the Pacific, the Marshall Islands, British Island east of Africa, and the African mainland.

diation exists at high altitudes except over the poles are found to be correct, it may be possible to launch man through the holes in a 2-stage vehicle. The first stage would place a satellite in orbit and the second would boost the craft through the area of least radiation when it was over a pole.

Dempsey estimated that a typical equatorial launching station might cost $100 million plus another one hundred million for its communications system.

Dempsey and Thomas G. Lanphier, Jr., another Convair vice president, also discussed the air force W-2 more advanced form and anti-missile missile concept, thought to have been using its own funds to develop cancelled months ago in favor of the Army Nike-Zeus operation with the air force.

Sees World-Wide Video Hook-Up

London.—A Russian radio commentator Tuesday predicted a worldwide television hook-up by means of sputnik transmitting stations.

The sputniks would have to be motionless in relation to the earth but this could be achieved if they made one revolution of the globe every 24 hours.

Nikolai Potisayev said a satellite 21,000 miles out in space would view nearly a third of the earth's surface. Three such satellites at equal distances would cover the whole world.

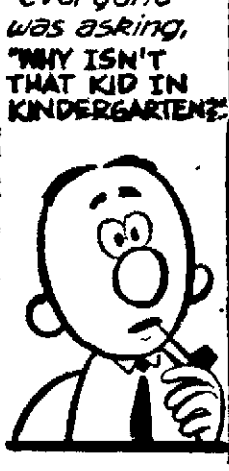

"A special automatic device on the sputniks could make sure the antennae were always directed at some particular telecasting station on the earth," Potisayev added.

Potisayev said atomic or solar batteries would supply the power.

Name Woman Lawyer to GOP District Post

Mrs. Harley Splitt Succeeds Mrs. Sinner On Central Unit

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Mrs. Clara Sinner of Appleton Tuesday lost her place as an Eighth district member of the Republican state central committee, as the party platform convention reorganized the committee which has lost most of its functions and responsibilities to the voluntary party campaign organization.

Mrs. Sinner, a veteran of party activity, was replaced by Mrs. Harley Splitt, Appleton lawyer, in the only change for the district committee roster voted by Republican nominees for office from the eighth district.

Everett Yerly of LaCrosse, committee chairman, was re-elected without opposition. He will serve his third term.

Other district members of the committee are Mrs. Lee

It'll be 'Dick' Zingsheim On November Ballot After All

It will be "Dick" Zingsheim, Democratic candidate for assembly, on the general election ballot after all.

Zingsheim today filed at the county clerk's office a certified copy of a corrected birth record which changed his legal name from Francis Herman to Dick Francis Herman.

The certification, cost $1.50 to obtain from the register of deeds in Milwaukee county, Zingsheim's birth place.

Zingsheim's name became a problem after he was nominated by his party as an assembly candidate in Outagamie county's first district.

An opinion from Sec. of State Zimmerman and County Corporation Counsel Dohr to County Clerk Pfeffer said Zingsheim's name would have Blood of Green Bay, Larry Jolin of Sturgeon Bay, Robert Murphy of Peshtigo and Paul Schuette of Manitowish.

Seventh district members are Fred Braun of Antigo, Mrs. Laura Klinefelter of Adams, George Landon of Wausau, Carl Sturm of Manawa and Mary Alice Wefel of Wisconsin Rapids.

For the Sixth district, the convention chose these members:

Mrs. Kenneth Worthing of Fond du Lac, Carl Steiger, Oshkosh, Lucius Chase, Kohler, Rod Ott, Fredonia, and Ray Peters, Brillion.

The Eighth district delegates named Mark Catlin, Jr., of Appleton, Republican nominee for the state assembly, and Sen. A. A. Laun, Jr., of Kiel as members of the convention platform committee which produced the party's statutory campaign platform.

Highway 41 Opening Set For Oct. 17

Work Complete on 4-Lane Thoroughfare South of Fond du Lac

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The second major segment of 4-lane construction on U. S. Highway 41 in eastern Wisconsin will be celebrated at public dedication ceremonies at Fond du Lac on Oct. 17.

The state highway commission and other state officials will proclaim the opening for public use of 30 miles of divided highway between Highway 175 at Fond du Lac and Highway 60 at Slinger.

The opening will mean there will be a divided 4-lane modern highway from Fond du Lac to Milwaukee.

Costly Project
 The 30-mile segment represents one of the largest and most costly highway improvement projects in the history of the Wisconsin public roads program, and is a beginning of an ultimate Highway 41 4-lane construction north to Green Bay.

Separations and interchanges are already under construction north of Fond du Lac, especially in Winnebago county, in anticipation of 4-lane construction in later years.

Additional construction probably will be paced to traffic pressures. Thus the first of the construction on the northern end of the highway is likely to be in the Neenah-Menasha neighborhood and in Outagamie county by-passing Appleton.

Four Agents Will Serve on Extension Talks Committees

Four Fox Cities area county agents have been named to committees for the annual University of Wisconsin extension conference in Madison, Oct. 7-11.

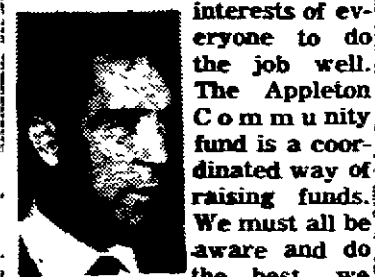

John E. Powers, Outagamie county, will serve on the county and state fair committee. Vernon Peroutky, Winnebago county, is vice chairman of the professional advancement committee. Orin Meyer, Calumet county, is on the welfare committee and Miss Lois Klusmeyer, Winnebago county home agent, is an auditing committee member.

Fire Sweeps Hunting Land Near Montello

Wausau — Some of the finest duck and pheasant land in central Wisconsin went up in smoke Tuesday, according to Forest Ranger Sid Miller.

He said some 600 acres of marsh land near Montello in Marquette county burned Tuesday morning and that some 200 acres of peat land in the area continued to burn late Tuesday.

Rangers believe the fire was started by sparks from a hot-box of a 10:15 a.m. Chicago and Northwestern freight train that traverses the marsh.

Conservation rangers and the Montello rural fire department battled the blaze about three miles south of Montello.

Denies Drunken Driving Charge

Gordon A. Rusch, 31, route 2, Appleton, Tuesday in municipal court pleaded innocent of drunken driving and posted bond of $118.95 for trial Oct. 9.

Rusch was arrested Friday by city police when he left the scene of an accident after he was told to pull over to the side of the road. He refused to take the drunkometer test.

Wire Works Reorganizes

Holding Company To Handle Stock; Operations Same

Appleton Wire Works has completed a corporate reorganization, it was announced by W. E. Buchanan, president, today.

A new company, named Outagamie corporation, has been formed to hold all the stock of Appleton Wire Works. This company also will own the stock of International Wire works at Menasha which since 1955 has been a subsidiary of Appleton Wire works.

For the last 15 years Appleton Wire works has owned the facilities used by the Tuttle Press company in the conduct of its business. In the reorganization these facilities were conveyed to the Tuttle Press company in exchange for securities of that company which will no longer be owned by Appleton Wire works but by Outagamie corporation.

Buchanan made it clear that the reorganization in no way affects the business operations of Appleton Wire works, which manufactures wire cloth for the pulp and paper industry. He pointed out that both plants of the wire works will be operated as they are now, with the same personnel.

"The wire works business will be conducted as it has been for many years, under the same management and in the same manner as in the past," Buchanan said.

Under the reorganization the former stockholders of Appleton Wire works received one share of voting stock and four shares of non-voting stock of Outagamie corporation in exchange for each share which they owned in Appleton Wire works.

Case Adjourned
 A charge of absconding without paying a room bill against Oscar Haack, 56, who gave his address as 1921 First street, was adjourned for two weeks Tuesday in municipal court. Haack is charged with obtaining lodging from the K. C. Modern bar, 317 N. Appleton street, without paying for it. If the bill is paid in two weeks the charge will be dropped.

Damaged Grain May be Used For Rations

Sprouted Wheat Can Cut Down on Corn in Feed

Sprout damaged wheat can be used in dairy rations to replace part or all of the corn. It can be used to make up about one-half of the mixture and should be ground to medium fineness, says Leo R. Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

One bushel of sprouted wheat is about equal in feeding value to one bushel of good corn for dairy cows. Therefore, when one bushel of damaged wheat brings less than a bushel of corn on the market, it is good business to feed it to dairy cattle rather than to sell it.

When wheat is used to replace a large portion of the corn in grain rations, less protein supplement will be needed, Fryman says. Sprouted wheat has higher protein content than corn. It also contains more water and only small batches of feed can be ground at one time. Musty odors are likely to develop when a large amount of feed containing

Hietpas Animal Tests 125 Pounds On September List

A cow owned by the Hietpas Dairy topped the DHIA report this month. It was reported as testing 125 pounds of butterfat. The dairy has two other cows in the first 10. One tested 98 pounds to place third and the other placed tenth with 86 pounds.

Ervin Conradt had a cow in second place with 101 pounds of butterfat. His 18-head herd topped all other herds, percentage-wise. The DHIA central co-op reported his herd at 83.3 per cent over the 40-pound mark.

The other top 10 cows included cows owned by Florian Mastey, 94 pounds; John Kluge, 92 pounds; Robert Krohlow and Cy Letter, both at 91 pounds; George Peters at 89 pounds and William Conradt and Sons at 86 pounds.

The percentage of herd over 40 pounds list showed a big drop between the top and second places. Herman Stichtmann's 9-head herd was a 66.6 per cent.

The other herds included Krohlow, 23-head, 52.2 per cent; Hunter Lake, 29-head, 51.7 per cent; Manning Nelson, 14-head, 50 per cent; Arnold Volkman, 31-head, 48.3 per cent; Gerald Smith, 27-head, 48.1 per cent; Ing Vehe, 15-head, 46.6 per cent; Robert Paltzer, 28-head, 46.5 per cent, and Robert Oudenhoven, 37-head, 45.9 per cent.

The County Agent Says

Why do elm and maple trees produce a sticky, honey like discharge from the leaves?

This material is called honey dew and is caused by the feeding of aphids. It has been observed as being particularly troublesome this year. This is not a disease and is usually not too serious. Control would be to eliminate the aphids by spraying with Malathion.

Why do squash plants have a small number of squash after they have produced an abundance of blossoms?

Vine crops such as cucumbers, melons, and squash produce two kinds of blossoms. Only female blossoms, when properly pollinated, will develop fruits. It is very common for squash to produce an abundance of male blossoms. Male blossoms will not develop into fruit.

What causes the crust of the bread to crack after it has been removed from the freezer?

There are several reasons why the top crust of the bread will crack when it is removed from the freezer. First, it may be that the dough was too light when it was shaped and placed in the pan. This will make the undercrust tender and could cause the top crust to crack. A second reason is that perhaps too much dough was put into the bread pan, thus making the horizontal and vertical bread gluten and cells to be weak. With the contraction of the warm and cold air, it would make the top of the crust crack.

What new Grade A milk requirement goes into effect Nov. 15?

By Nov. 15, all producers of Grade A milk will be required to cool their milk down to 50 degrees Fahrenheit, or less, within two hours after milking. This requirement can not be made by using cold water. It will be necessary to use ice in the water or to provide some kind of mechanical cooling.

Pork Increase to Bring Raisers '59 Headaches

Price Tumble Seen in Big Spring Farrow

BY OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer

Washington (AP)—A sharply increased supply of pork for consumers but a batch of headaches for farmers and farm officials are in the cards for 1959.

An agriculture department survey made public Thursday forecast a 17 per cent increase in the fall pig crop and a 20 per cent increase in the first half of the 1959 spring crop in the corn belt.

If borne out, such an increase would place a much larger supply of pork on meat counters next year. Officials said it would bring much lower prices to hog producers—and of course, to consumers.

Disregard Benson

This projected expansion is being made in the face of repeated warnings by Secy. of Agriculture Benson and his aides that big increases might well cause hog prices to tumble to disastrous levels, just as they did in 1955 and 1956 after production was increased.

It also could have repercussions for the Eisenhower administration in the politically important Midwest, where nearly three-fourths of the hogs are produced.

Department livestock experts said the big pinch on prices would come in the fall of 1959, when the spring crop started moving to market. That's because the spring crop, as a whole, is much larger than the fall crop.

They said hog prices could be expected to go quite a lot in the spring, but not to disastrous levels, from the producer standpoint.

Timothy Seed Crop Reduced

Supplies of timothy seed are below a year ago because of the small crop this year, according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service for Wisconsin.

Wisconsin's hay crop has been small this year compared with production of recent years, and farmers have saved little of their acreage to be harvested for seed. This year timothy seed acreages harvested for seed in the state have totaled 7,000 acres compared with 11,000 acres a year ago. Yields per acre have averaged 95 pounds and production is estimated at 665,000 pounds of clean seed. This production of timothy seed is 42 per cent below a year ago and 47 per cent less than average.

United States production of timothy seed this year is estimated at nearly 29 million pounds of clean seed. With a smaller acreage and lower yields than a year ago, timothy seed production in the nation is 23 per cent smaller than the 1957 harvest and 30 per cent below average. Production of 1958 timothy seed plus farm and dealer carry-over in the nation gives a supply of 40½ million pounds of clean seed. This supply is 16 per cent smaller than a year ago and only three-fourths of average.

"TA"
(TORQUE AMPLIFIER)

All This Happens When You're in the Drivers Seat With TA . . .

You hit a tough plowing spot . . . hard as the road. But there's no need to waste time shifting down. Reach for the TA lever and breeze through.

Slug in the Windrow? Just pull the TA lever to slow down — on the go — while PTO maintains constant speed for even feeding, non-stop baling.

When cultivating, slow down for turns with TA. No need to shift or throttle back. Cultivator lifts fast and you break without stalling.

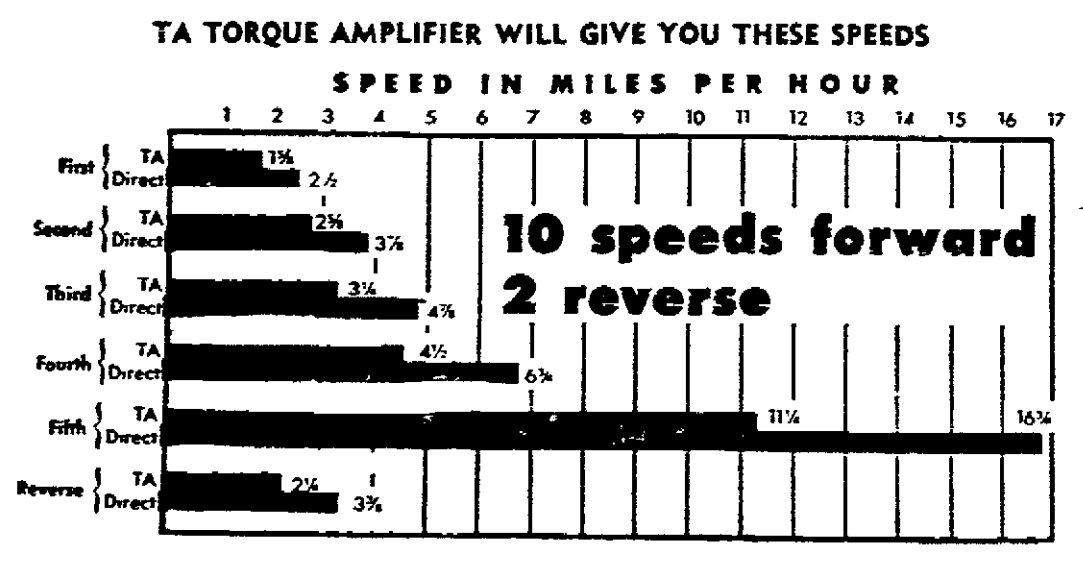

To save heavy, "down" grain combine in first — TA all day. You move 33% slower than in regular first-gear yet keep up PTO speed to get all the crop.

Now you want to back a bulky machine into a tight spot. Use the low-low reverse speed you get with TA and maneuver it accurately and safely.

You're pulling a heavy load and here's a steep grade. No need to shift down. Pull the TA lever to move up surely. On top, release TA once you're on the way.

Start trailing loads in fifth-TA to save stalls and clutch shopping. It boosts pull power 60% over regular fifth gear. After load is rolling just release TA.

Get the feel of new, when-needed power to match heaviest loads . . . on the go. Prove to yourself why TA is the most terrific tractor power development in years!

Pick Chairmen For Calumet Holstein Show

16th Annual '400'
To be Arranged by Seybold and Tesch

Chilton — Leonard Seybold and R. C. Tesch have been named co-chairmen of the 16th annual Calumet "400" Holstein sale to be held Nov. 1 at Chilton.

All heifer consignments must be out of dams with a record of at least 400 pounds of fat on twice daily milking. A limited number of bulls to be consigned must be out of dams producing at least 500 pounds of fat.

Bred, open and calf heifers plus a few young serviceable bulls will make up the consignment. In addition to production the sale this year will also emphasize type and size. Consignments will be accepted from surrounding counties. Seybold, Donald Steege and Paul Christoph will make the consignment committee for the November sale.

Other committeemen include Herman Danes, Reuben Keuler, Leonard Woelfel, Victor Geiser and the board of directors of the Calumet Holstein association.

These Shiocton High School Boys, from the left, Gene Johnson and Tom Fischer, along with their instructor, V. M. Wawiora, are not practicing for roles as masked bandits. They are learning the elements of welding at the agricultural vocational shop. They are working on a broken plow share.

Chilton Woman Wins Many Food Ribbons

Mrs. Keuler
Nearly Sweeps
Competition

Chilton — Mrs. Alfens Keuler, Chilton, won most blue ribbon awards in the open classifications of canning and preserving of foods at the Calumet county fair.

Included in Mrs. Keuler's display were blue ribbons on applesauce, apricots, unpitted cherries, plums, black raspberries, strawberries, rhubarb, whole kernel sweet corn, peas, whole tomatoes, tomato juice, mixed vegetable, red raspberries, chicken with bones, carrots and crabapple pickles.

Other first place canning prizes went to Mrs. Fred Harder for peaches and pickled beets, Mrs. Henry Horst, pears and yellow beans, Mrs. John Pagel, beef, pork sausage and veal, and Mrs. Joseph Hanke, green beans.

Winning first place ratings for needlework and clothing exhibits were Mrs. Fred Harder for a 1-piece work garment, practical house dress, skirt, best blouse, and mittens; Mrs. Hugh Lavey, summer dress; Mrs. John Pagel, wool dress or suit; Mrs. Joseph Hanke, work apron; Diane Sattler, sweater, infant sweater and socks; Emma Stadtmueller, tablecloths; Mrs. Matt Heuss, doil-ies, pillow slips and hot pads; Mrs. Stadtmueller, towels; Judy Geiser, pillow slips and dresser scarves; and Mary Wolf, handkerchiefs.

Knitted Rug

Mrs. Stadtmueller won the blue ribbon for the best knitted rug; Mrs. Elmer Pilling best braided rug; Mrs. Fred Harder best woven rug; and Mrs. Elroy Wolf best woven rug.

Mrs. Art Haltinner won the top award in the patchwork and hand quilted division.

Top flower awards went to Mrs. Elmer Pilling for tuberous begonia, geranium in bloom and ivy. Mrs. John Pagel won firsts on African violets and philodendron; Mrs. Alphons Keuler rated a blue ribbon on coleus; Mrs. Herb Harder on fern.

Mrs. Elmer Whitby took top place with her arrangement of cut flowers while Mrs. Keuler won on the best dining centerpiece. Mrs. Elmer Pilling's exhibit ranked first in the dahlia bouquets; Tom Meyer won on the best coger; Mrs. Dorothy Diedrich on the best collection of annuals; and Mrs. Keuler showed the outstanding arrangement of wild flowers.

Flower Winners

Other blue ribbon flower winners were Mrs. Elroy Wolf, bouquet of dried material; Mrs. Pilling, aster; Mary Agnes Kolbe, calendula; Mrs. Fred Buhl, cornflower; Mrs. Keuler, gaillardia; John Kopf, cosmos; and Mrs. Dorothy Diedrich, strawflowers.

John Kopf earned blue ribbons on zinnias, French and African marigold; Mrs. Whitby on nasturtium, snapdragon, stocks and verbena. Mrs. Diedrich won the pansy exhibit; Mrs. Pilling placed first on single petunia, and Mrs. Pagel won the ruffled petunia class.

Mrs. Buhl placed first on phlox and Robert Stanelle earned first rating on the saliva exhibit.

Did You Know Prices Paid Farmers for Milk Are Lower Now Than in 1947-49?

The farmers are receiving approximately 8 per cent less for milk now than in 1947-49 while the consumers are paying 15 per cent more for all their dairy products than in 1947-49. And, still, criticism of increased prices falls on the dairy farmer. Farmers must meet increased costs while their income has fallen off. Don't criticize the dairy farmer. Help him get a fair share of the consumers' dollar.

Milk Expansion Seen Ended as Production Dips

Washington—A long expansion in the production of milk—with accompanying surpluses—appears to have come to an end.

The agriculture department reports that production has fallen for four consecutive months below those of a year earlier. It is likely, officials said, that production for the year will be slightly below last year. There had been official forecasts of a small increase.

Production in August was 1 per cent below the same month last year. Production for the first eight months of this year was 88,968 million pounds compared with 89,341 million in the like period last year. Of the major dairy states, only Pennsylvania was maintaining production at record levels.

This decline followed reduction of dairy price supports April 1 under a department program designed to halt overproduction and to encourage greater consumption.

CASE

COMPETITION IS TRYING TO CONFUSE YOU ABOUT
Case-o-matic DRIVE

Exactly what is Case-o-matic Drive?

It is a skillfully engineered "marriage" of an exceptionally efficient torque converter and a standard multiple-gear transmission plus a conventional direct drive.

Is Case-o-matic Drive torque converter fully automatic?

Yes. It is an improvement over the automatic transmission in the latest model automobile. With Case-o-matic Drive, you have a wide choice of working ranges... eight forward ranges in the Case-o-matic Drive 800 tractor... four or eight in the Case-o-matic Drive 400 and 600 tractors. In any working range selected, Case-o-matic Drive senses the load... increases pull-power as needed... instantly, precisely and automatically without clutching, shifting or stalling.

Does Case-o-matic Drive torque converter cost more to operate?

No. Because the torque converter operates automatically, travel speed and working load are always perfectly balanced for greatest possible work output per hour, per day, per gallon of fuel. The engine operates in its most efficient range regardless of load because Case-o-matic Drive adjusts instantly for extra pull-power when it's needed. You never "gun" the engine or inject slugs of raw gas into the cylinders. Result — no oil dilution, no cylinder scoring, minimum carbon deposits — and the engine makes the most efficient use of every gallon of fuel.

What are the specific advantages of the Case-o-matic Drive torque converter?

A Case-o-matic Drive tractor lets you operate in a higher working range than with a conventional transmission tractor. This greater efficiency is possible because Case-o-matic Drive automatically adjusts pull-power to the load. As the load increases, pull-power increases up to 100%. Because there is no time-wasting downshifting, upshifting or stalling you can plow up to 15% more in a day. Accelerator and brakes give you precise control of both forward and rearward movement.

Can a Case-o-matic Drive tractor be operated in torque converter continuously?

Yes. After you select the proper working range, you can stay in torque converter as long as you like. Case-o-matic Drive is engineered and built for long, hard continuous service. In fact, Case gives you a double warranty on the Case-o-matic Drive... a warranty for twice as long as the warranty on conventional transmissions in standard tractors.

Are clutch replacements necessary on a Case-o-matic Drive tractor?

No. The hydraulically actuated clutches in Case-o-matic Drive are designed to last the life of the tractor. They are self-adjusting. There is no slipping, no burning, no occasion for excessive wear and consequent clutch replacement. Shock loads are absorbed, thus reducing wear on bearings, shafts, and gears. Power-train maintenance is kept to a minimum. Years are added to tractor life.

Does Case-o-matic Drive reduce wheel slippage or spinning?

Yes. Depending on the load, up to 16% tire slippage is usually considered unavoidable with conventional-drive tractors. This wasteful, tire-wearing, soil-tearing hazard is measurably minimized with Case-o-matic Drive. Torque is transmitted so smoothly to drive wheels you move out evenly and surely from a dead stop. Minutes wasted slipping the clutch or downshifting to get started in heavy going are used instead to cover more ground, get more work done.

Is Case-o-matic Drive safer to operate in the field?

Yes. The speed range is selected and the clutch fully engaged before the tractor is put in motion. Then, a tiptoe touch of the accelerator and the tractor is rolling smoothly and safely. There is no dangerous jerking or bucking. In tight spots you move as slowly as you want, avoiding risk of damage to machinery.

Is Case-o-matic Drive safer to operate on the highway?

Yes. With Case-o-matic Drive you have the tractor under complete control during starting and stopping, regardless of the load, by merely using brakes and accelerator. There is no danger of stalling the engine at busy intersections, railroad crossings or on grades.

Is Case-o-matic Drive easier and safer on short headlands, on row-end turnings and for close-quarter chore work in barns and yards?

Yes. At headlands and row-ends you can slow to a crawl without clutching or shifting, by merely using the brakes. Your hands are free for steering and hydraulic control of implements. With Case-o-matic Drive you can "feel" your way, creep smoothly in barns, feedlots and through narrow doors and gates by using either brakes or accelerator.

Is it easy to change from Case-o-matic torque converter drive to direct drive?

Yes. All it takes is a flick of your finger. Just flip a handy little lever under the steering wheel. You do it on the move, at any speed, without clutching or shifting. This "locks up" the torque converter so the engine is connected directly to the transmission as it is in any conventional tractor.

Does Case-o-matic Drive give more efficient power take-off operations?

Yes. A Case-o-matic Drive tractor gives the independent PTO priority on engine power. The PTO shaft is attached directly to the engine flywheel and operates completely independent of the torque converter. When in torque converter at a fixed throttle setting, variations in travel speed due to varying load have little or no effect on engine RPM, so your PTO speed remains up, always keeps the driven machine operating at a maximum efficiency.

Does Case-o-matic Drive reduce operator fatigue?

Yes. A Case-o-matic Drive tractor has the operating convenience and control of a modern car with an automatic transmission. You have complete control of the tractor with the accelerator and brakes. As a result, you feel fresher, more willing and able to enjoy family activities and community functions at the end of a day in the field.

First Color Forum Held in Appleton

Event Again Puts Fox Cities in National Industrial Spotlight

Newspaper color processes as related to dollars-in-the-till economy were introduced to 117 representatives of Fox Cities business and industry Tuesday at the Elks club during the first ROP color forum ever offered to localized advertisers.

The pioneering event sponsored by the Post-Crescent again put the Fox Cities squarely in America's industrial spotlight. The 3-hour program was staffed by national trade magazines anxious to bring the story of color and its reception by advertisers back to business executives across the nation.

Four nationally recognized experts in the field of ROP (run of paper) color took the rostrum to explain various phases of the process.

Speakers were: Ernest Klostermann, vice president of Sta-hi Color Service Sales corporation; George Mead of the Milwaukee Journal's promotion and research department, and Norman Richart, of the Multi-Ad service.

An evening forum was held Tuesday night for Post-Crescent employees. The discussions, more on the technical side, featured a clinical study of color by Erwin T. Giannoni, stereotype superintendent of the Chicago Tribune. Because of the technical nature of his talk, he was not included on the afternoon program.

The advertisers heard Glenn H. Arthur, Post-Crescent director of advertising, declare that the paper's color facilities on its newly installed press were equal to any others in the nation. Color, he said, will be the most effective sales tool of the modern retailer.

Ultimate Function
Klostermann said identification is the ultimate function of color advertising. He offered 60 examples of newspaper color in action, pointing out the good and weak points of each. "Color," he told the group, "tells the story. Your goal is to pre-sell the customer and color will help you better than anything else to do that. It will help you focus attention on your product. It will give your product identification. It will help make both your store and your merchandise stand out."

Mead provided figures on readership and retention as based on results of a survey made by Publication Research, Inc. His remarks indicated that color advertising shows substantially higher rates in both readership and retention as opposed to black and white ads.

Sales Power
He punctuated his address with slides to prove the impact and sales power of newspaper color advertising.

Richart told the representatives that Multi-Ad service places the use of color advertising within the reach of every merchant regardless of size.

"Color," he said, "will put you on the main street of readership. After you run a large color ad, you can follow with smaller ad, black and white items, and expect reader response because the reader will recognize your smaller ads quality through your previous use of color."

Evening Forum
An evening forum was held at the Elks club Tuesday night for newspaper plant employees. The discussions, more on the technical and mechanical side, featured a clinical study of color by Erwin T. Giannoni, stereotype superintendent of the Chicago Tribune.

Included on the afternoon program was a full color film, "Color Sells Everything," by R. Hoe & Co., printing press manufacturers.

Beauty Parlors Don't Belong in Homes, Man Says

It is wrong to permit a beauty salon in a residential area, Edward L. Goenen, 224 N. Oneida street, says in a letter that will be introduced at the city council meeting tonight.

Goenen, owner of a beauty shop, says he would hate to own residential property "and wake up some morning and find one of these operations next door or one or more of them in the neighborhood, all with signs in the window, on the house, on the lawn or boulevard."

Building Inspector Walter Bogan, who is asking the council to consider permitting beauty parlors in residential areas, must not have weighed the facts, Goenen says.

Such a move, Goenen claims, would be an invitation to do the same for many other service operations.

Youths Sentenced to Terms at Reformatory

Charges Against Six Boys Include Burglary, Theft and Misconduct

Six youths variously charged with burglary, theft, and misconduct with two girls, 12 and 14, were sentenced today in municipal court.

The youths were arrested by Appleton police after an investigation of a beer party Aug. 28 in one of the girls' homes.

In court were Curtis M. Krause, 17, 835 W. Grant street; John C. Rohrdanz, 16, 613 Lee avenue; Brillion; Kenneth C. Newhouse, 18, 1404 N. Bennett street; Darrel O. Griel, 18, 1018 W. Kamps avenue; Donald L. Kappell, 16, 1409 N. Bennett street; and Richard D. Glaser, 18, 1402 N. Bennett street.

Newhouse was sentenced to from one to seven years and from one to five years in the state reformatory at Green Bay for misconduct with the 12- and 14-year-old girls, re-

Owners of Land Offered for Park To Meet With City

Owners of three south side sites which have been offered the city as parks will meet with the council's finance committee and some members of the board of public works at 7 p.m. Monday at city hall.

Herbert and John Roeland, who offered either 8 or 5.84 acres south of Hoover avenue on a line with Lawe street. They want $20,000 for the larger piece and $15,000 for the smaller one. Terms are $2,000 down on the larger piece and $1,000 down on the smaller one and $2,000 a year at 4 per cent interest after that.

Joseph H. Doerfler, who offered either 6.34 or 3.96 acres immediately south of Hoover avenue at Lawe street for $2,500 an acre.

A. B. Kassike, who offered about 20 acres a few blocks south of Madison Junior High school for $2,000 an acre, with $10,000 down Jan. 1 and the rest at $3,000 a year and at 4 per cent interest.

Fox Cities Get First Freezing

World Series week opened in perfect weather—for football. The mercury hit freezing in the Fox Cities this morning for the first time this season. According to the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company weather observation post, the mercury dipped to 22 at 5:30 a. m. today.

The maximum temperature Tuesday was no fever raiser at a chilly 48. A southeasterly circulation today promised moderated temperatures and Tuesday's maximum level was reached by 10:30 this morning.

Gentle, short showers after 9 a. m. Tuesday recorded .02 inches of rain. Earlier rains Tuesday produced .10 inches. Although not expected to affect the Fox Cities, the extended forecast for the state indicated the possibilities of snow flurries for the first time this season. It is expected this much-too-early inroad of winter will be confined to the northern part of the state. The cold mass of air soothing the fevered brow of all Badgers today embraced the entire mid-continent and spread brisk winds and chilly air south and east into much of the Atlantic coast.

Share Prices Move Lower

Profit Selling Brings Halt to Upturn on Exchange

New York (U)—Profit taking skimmed the stock market's renewed advance to record highs in active trading early this afternoon.

Leading stocks were off fractions to about a point. A few scattered gainers remained.

Issues affected by special news made some wider moves to the downside. At the start, the ticker tape was behind for seven minutes. Trading became more moderate as prices gave ground on a broad front.

Steels, motors, rails, aircrafts, tobaccos, drugs and chemicals were consistently lower. Oils, inspired by strength in Royal Dutch, posted gains. Nonferrous metals and mail orders were irregular.

While the overall economic news remained quite good and Commerce Secretary Sinclair

Weeks said the business outlook was the "brightest yet this year," higher interest charges and predictions of another boost in the discount rate had a dampening tendency.

Lukens Steel dropped about 6 points after a dividend cut to 25 cents from 50 cents. Pressure of selling was great.

Clifford Tyrol, 51, 520 N. Clark street, Tuesday in municipal court denied charges of annoying Wallace T. Herant, 713 E. Franklin street, by using abusive language over the telephone. Tyrol posted $18.95 bond for trial Nov. 28.

The name in Tuesday's Post-Crescent was incorrectly spelled Tyrol. The Post-Crescent regrets the error.

Parade, Dance Will Highlight Alcan Fete

Gov. Thomson, Rep. Laird, Mayor Invited to Reunion in New London

New London — Plans for the first national reunion of the Alaska highway and Canal road workers, civilian and military, have been announced by the arrangements committee.

The reunion, scheduled Oct. 10 through 12, will feature a parade and public dance the morning of Oct. 11.

The prime minister of Canada, the acting governor of Alaska, Gov. Vernon Thomson, Congressman Melvin R. Laird and Mayor Gust O. Krueger have been invited to be special guests.

The committee is arranging for the New London High school band and other neighboring bands, heavy earth moving equipment and other machinery to appear in the parade. It will start at 11 a. m.

The afternoon sessions will be devoted to group meetings for the road builders, bridge builders, signal corps personnel, airmen, telephone linemen and pipeline workers.

The two generals, who headed the work force, also have been invited to attend the reunion.

Another of the featured guests will be Walter Olen, Clintonville, of the Four Wheel Drive Automobile company, which supplied, according to the committee, about 5,000 trucks for work on the Alaskan highway.

A registration booth will be located at Wolf River avenue and S. Pearl street. The committee estimated that about 50,000 men, both civilian and military, helped work on the highway.

Reservations have been received from Wausau, Merrill, Antigo, Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Oconto, Shiocton, Elcho, Goodman, Milwaukee, Green Bay, Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids, Oshkosh, Manitowoc, Marinette and the states of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and California.

Hospital at Quemoy Most Hit Building

Embattled Beach Would be Pride Of Sea Resort

BY JOSEPH ALSOP
Quemoy — The cliffs of Quemoy seem to be formed of alternating layers of palest pearl and deepest coral. Under the bright early sun, the embattled beach would be the pride of any sea resort. In truth, the worst-damaged building on the island, the hospital, was built on the beach with the idea of peacetime conversion to a resort hotel.

The rule is that you run across the beach from the old C-48 transport to the sheltering caves in the cliffs. But this time, there is no shelling. (The methodical communists seem to be accustomed to no needles, oddly transform this more than one arriving plane daily; and they have done their shelling, very thorough indeed, for the plane that arrived a little earlier.) So the runners slow to a walk before the cliffs are reached. Behind the cliffs, there is a moon landscape of bare and eroded gullies and draws; and here the battalions have dug themselves and their guns and all their weapons dumps and living facilities right into the cliffside. Any enemy who gained the grimly entailed beaches would find a worse hell awaiting him behind the cliffs. The weapons carrier climbs the gully-side, along a sandy road that has been cut down eight feet into the earth; and at last it comes up onto the center of the island. Northwards is the tumble of dark purplish stony cliffs, where the Chinese high command occupies a central redoubt cut deep in living rock. Southwards is Quemoy town, which must have been a pretty little place, full of its own life, before the unending shelling marred the gracefully curved tile roofs, closed most of the shops and all but emptied the streets.

Strange Scene The Quemoy landscape is doubly strange to those who know China. On the one hand, U. S. aid counterpoint funds have been used to plant innumerable trees on Quemoy. The graceful cedars, with their long, dark, frond-like trunks, oddly transform this more than one arriving plane daily; and they have done their shelling, very thorough indeed, for the plane that other hand, an invariable feature of every Chinese countryside has been subtracted by the communist artillery. There are no peasants tillage the little fields, behind the with one of Quemoy's guns been really badly hurt, even its close, the moment of the more than 150,000 rounds of enemy fire. As it is a big place, and the chances of being in the immediate neighborhood of any incoming round are trifling, the slow crump-crump of enemy shells almost ceases to be noticeable after a while (unless you hear the shell-whistle, which means that they are aiming fairly close).

Landing raft Besides this slow crumping, the place has its other characteristic sounds and sights. There is the odd sight, for instance, of a school of small amphibious landing craft, looking like a stranded school of porpoises. They wait in a sheltered gully to lumber back across the beach to swim to their mother LST. It will come soon, and a new school of supply-laden small craft will replace these that one sees. There are the gun positions—every visitor is shown a gun position—with the 155s housed in all but impregnable casemates. The seasoned, efficient gun crews, mostly mainlanders and getting older now, have made their casemates almost homelike in their long spare time. Little Capt. Peng, commanding the battery, talks wistfully of "my province," which he left some seventeen years ago; and he talks proudly of his battery's success with time on target fire against the enemy guns, which he cannot maintain as he ought to do, because an iron ration of ammunition has to be conserved. At length the visit draws to its close, the moment of the dawn takeoff for Taipei arrives. And this time there is shelling on the beach, but nothing much to worry about. And so one leaves with a sense of the human reality of this little, besieged, bravely-defended place that so many people who are comfortably distant from the human reality would like to treat as a pawn on a chess board. Here's a Pizza My Mind, Mate Says; Ends Up in Court zicki, 23, gave his wife a pizza of his mind. In court on an assault and battery charge, Bezdzicki testified that his wife kept telling him what a good pizza pie she was eating the night of Sept. 20. "I told her, 'If you saw it's a good pizza one more time, I'll stick it in your face.' 'She did, and I did.' The judge gave him a year's probation.

Detroit — It might be said that Benjamin Bez-
